HEIR TO THE WORLD

We are living in a very disquieting time, a time of grief, and maybe even of doubt as we see the wicked prosper and grow fat as grease with no apparent hand of God against them. Nimrod's spirit seems to be alive and well as the wicked work their predetermined plan for world-wide dominion through Fabian Socialism. (Someone will predetermine or predestine the future: The wicked through ungodly laws or Christians through godly laws.) The wicked are not only intent on destroying "free enterprise" and Christianity in the US, but their goal is world-wide dominion. However, by faith we understand that the ungodly are in a slippery place, and will be cast down to destruction according to God's predetermined timing. (Ps 37, 73, 119:70)

We are told by the one who has all power and authority that world-wide dominion belongs to the saints:

But the saints of the most High shall take the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever.
(Daniel 7:18)

Abraham, Heir to the World

For the promise, that he should be the heir of the world as found in Genesis 12, was not to Abraham, or to his seed, through the law, but through the righteousness of faith.
(Rom 4:13)

Galatians 3:29 makes it clear that Abraham's seed are the Elect of God, and are the only legitimate heirs to the world. It is the faith of Abraham given to them by Spirit that makes them joint heirs to the world through Christ. That heirship is claimed through preaching the gospel of Jesus Christ, and making disciples of all nations according to his law-word.

All the families of the earth. Rebellion caused God to divide Noah's one family into three family-nations, and numerous more family-nations since. But through the righteousness of Christ, God has formed a new United Nation with a common commitment of obedience to the Son.

Christ told the religious leaders that Abraham was shown the gospel of Christ, the Kingdom of Christ, and redemption through faith: Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day: and he saw it, and was glad. (Joh 8:56)

Hebrews 11 speaks of the motivating faith of the Old Testament saints, with Abraham being the first after the flood. After defining faith in Hebrews 11, Hebrews 12:2 follows with this statement, Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith; who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.

Did Christ say in John 8:56 that Abraham was shown the Gospel Church in Jesus? Did Abraham look unto Jesus as the author and finisher of his faith? Was he motivated in his faith when he was shown the day of redemption in Christ? Did what he saw motivate him in his faith to leave his life of ease in Ur?

We know that Job understood the gospel of the redeemer and the final judgment, Job 19:24-27. We know that the Lord showed Abram the future kingdom of God as found in the Lord Jesus Christ, and that he saw the city of God which is spoken of in many places: Psalms 46:4, 87:3.

The city of God for which Abraham was looking in Hebrews 11:10, is defined in the next chapter of Hebrews 12:22-24

The city of God that was shown to Abraham when he left Ur of the Chaldees was was Gospel Church of the firstborn. That city was not heaven as we normally think of heaven. He never reached that city, but he was not discouraged; by faith, he knew that his promise would be fulfilled when the time was right. The new nation of God as promised to Abraham in Genesis 12 is made up of those who have been given the faith of Abraham, Galatians 6:16. They make up the church of Hebrews 12:23.

The Apostle John was shown the city of God in Revelation 21:10ff. Abraham was shown that the heavenly Jerusalem, the general assembly and church of the firstborn who are presently seated in the heavens together with Christ; Ephesians 2:6 (hath raised us up together) is past tense.

That city of God is made up of all the redeemed of all nations and ages. Job most clearly states the hope or faith that only the Lord's grace can place in the human heart, Job 19:25-27.

It was only the grace of God that provided the faith for Abraham's obedience, Romans 4:1-3. That same grace is needed today in order to obey the word of God by faith, and inherit the blessing of that promise.

Both Islam and Judaism try to claim Genesis 12 as their own. Their claim is a false, empty claim, for the promise is clearly Christ and those who have the faith in Christ as did Abraham. Since the turn of the 20th century, many Christians and pastors have tried to believe and to promote Judaism's claim on Genesis 12 and still say they believe Galatians. Their problem was solved by their unbiblical theory of a Church/Israel distinction.

However, Paul destroys both physical claims. Neither the modern Jews nor the Mohammedans have any claim on Abraham's promise, for the promise is fulfilled in Christ alone, and belongs to the church of Jesus Christ.

For what saith the scripture? Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness. (Rom 4:3)

In Genesis chapters 15, 22 and 26, God promised Abraham that his seed would be as the multitude of the stars of the heaven. It seemed impossible in chapter 15, for Abraham had no children. The promise was Christ who would come through Isaac and Jacob. Romans

4:16, the promise that his seed could not be numbered was to be fulfilled through the faith of Christ, which is the gift of God. (Eph 2:8)

Abraham believed God would do what he said he would do, and God did the humanly impossible. Abraham believed God, and God alone was glorified.

Paul could not make a stronger case for the church being the ONLY heir to Abrahamic covenant according to the law of God, 4:13.

The confident attitude of the Jews of Paul's day was that because they supposed themselves to be the circumcised seed of Abraham, they had special privileges with God. They were confident that by following the customs delivered to them by the fathers, they would be in paradise. (See Charles Hodge on Romans 2:25.)

We can only touch the hem of the garment concerning the wonderful depths of the promise of 4:13, for it contains the mystery of the Gospel Church which was concealed in God's promise to Eve. More light is shed on that mystery in the command to Abraham. It is fully revealed by Paul as he describes the Gospel Church in Galatians.

The Promise of the Church was given to Abram (John 8:56)

INHERITANCE BY FAITH (ROM 4:12, 13)

Genesis 12:1 Now the LORD had said unto Abram, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I will shew thee: v. 2 And (1) I will make of thee a great nation, and (2) I will bless thee, and (3) make thy name great; and (4) thou shalt be a blessing: v. 3 And I will (5) bless them that bless thee, and (6) curse him that curseth thee: and in (7) thee shall all families of the earth be blessed. V. 4 So Abram departed, as the LORD had spoken unto him; and Lot went with him: and Abram was seventy and five years old when he departed out of Haran.

• OBSERVE

ADAM became the fountainhead of the rebellious, sinful, fallen race when he failed to glorify God as God, and obey God's command-word. ABRAHAM became the fountainhead of a new race that would love and obey God. About 2000 years after Adam, Genesis 12, God, according to sovereign will, his own good pleasure and purpose, chose to call a man out of Adam's rebellious race; a man through whom he would establish a new covenant nation made up of a new people through whom he would restore what Adam lost.

For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive. (1 Cor 15:22)

ADAM'S fallen race is based in natural birth from beneath. ABRAHAM'S new race is based in a supernatural birth from above.

And he said unto them, Ye are from beneath; I am from above: ye are of this world; I am not of this world. (John 8:23) The first man is of the earth, earthy: the second man is the Lord from heaven. 48 As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy: and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly. (1 Cor 15:47)

ADAM'S fallen race was promised blessings based in their obedience to the law; they fared miserably. ABRAHAM'S new race was promised blessings based on grace; that is, God working to give them the desire and the power to do his good pleasure.

14 For if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect: 15 Because the law worketh wrath: for where no law is, there is no transgression. (Rom 4)

Both the followers of the Jews' religion today and the followers of Judeo Christianity reject the fact that Genesis 12 is the key prophecy of the victorious Gospel Church which is founded upon grace through the faith of Abraham, 4:16.

When the Gospel Church attributes Abraham's promises to a pagan people or nation, i.e., those who claim not to be Jews, it militates against the gospel of Christ; the church denies the truth that it is the true heirs to the promised blessings in Christ as found in Genesis 12.

Romans 4:13 For the promise... That is, the seven-fold promise of Genesis 12:2, 3.

- 1) I will make of thee a great nation,
- 2) I will bless thee,
- 3) I will make thy name great,
- 4) I will make you a blessing:
- 5) I will bless them that bless thee with all my blessings, both spiritual, temporal and eternal.
- 6) I will curse him that curseth thee.
- 7) I will bless all the families of the earth through you.

The seven-fold promise to Abraham is repeated with emphasis on seed, and not seeds, Genesis 22:18, 26:4.

The Midrash, which is the Rabbinic interpretation of the books of Moses, corrupts this promise to Abraham beyond recognition. It makes the promise to Abraham the man personally, even saying that Abraham's descendants will control the finances of the world, with Abraham's image on the coinage. (The Soncino Press Midrash, V. I, pp. 319ff.)

Abraham's faithful obedience to the command-word of God in 12:1 obtained the 7 seven-fold promise of vv. 2 & 3. Because of what we are told in Psalms 14, we understand that his obedience had to be the grace of God at work in him, for it is God who must work in his called ones to provide them with both desire and the power to do his good pleasure.

Paul explains the mystery of the Gospel Church that was hidden in Genesis 12:1-3 and the promise given to Abraham. He makes it very clear that the promised blessings were not given according to any righteousness in Abraham, for Abraham was not looking for God, nor did he have any desire toward God. The faith had to come from God, who alone is the author and finisher of faith

Romans 4:9-12, Paul encourages the Gentiles and undercuts Jewish pride when he points out that Abraham's faith was counted for righteousness 25 years before his circumcision.

V. 9, Cometh this blessedness... The happy state or condition of being freely forgiven and justified by God. Paul, in Romans 4:5-8 uses David's Psalm 32 to define this blessedness.

The promise of justification, Genesis 12, was given before circumcision so that he might be the father of all them that believe. That is, God's plan to make justification by faith available to all the world and not just to Abraham's literal descendants is clearly shown here in vv. 9-14.

ROMANS 4:13 is a wonderful passage and worthy of far more time than we can put into it. V. 12 tells us that all who are the children of Abraham through faith, are heirs to Genesis 12 the promise that Abraham's seed would inherit the world. Vv. 11-14 makes it clear that the promised inheritance was not to the many physical children of Abraham, but through the single seed, Jesus Christ.

Heir to the world. The word which was given as an everlasting possession to his seed obviously includes the land of Canaan.

As for me, behold, my covenant is with thee, and thou shalt be a father of many nations. (Gen 17:4)

... for or to a father of a multitude of nations. This promise was fulfilled both in a literal and a spiritual sense.

In the former, not to mention the many tribes which sprang from his children by Keturah, Arabia, Idumea, and Canaan were peopled by the descendants of Isaac and Ishmael. But from the language of Paul, #Ro 4:16,17, it is evident that a far higher sense is to be assigned to this promise; that it is to be understood not merely of Abraham's natural posterity, but of his spiritual seed also, composed of all true believers of every age and country. They, by the exercise of genuine faith, become heirs of the righteousness of faith, and all its accompanying blessings, and so are rendered adoptively the children of Abraham, the father of the faithful. The promise therefore went to make him the father of the church of God in all future ages, or, as the Apostle calls him, 'the heir of the world.' Accordingly for all that the Christian world enjoys or ever will enjoy, it is indebted instrumentally to Abraham and his seed. The high honour then of being the stock from which the Messiah should spring, and on which the church of God should grow, is here conferred upon Abraham. It was this honour that Esau despised when he sold his birthright; and here lay the profaneness of that act, which involved a contempt of the most sacred of all objects, the Messiah and his everlasting kingdom. (George Bush, 1796-1859)

Abraham's promise was fulfilled in both a literal and spiritual sense: Literal—the many tribes that emanated not only through Hagar, the Egyptian servant of Sarah, Sarah's son Isaac and through Keturah's 6 sons. Each son had upon him God's promise to Abraham to be a father of a multitude of nations. (Gen 25) Spiritual—composed of all true believers of every age and country. The promise made him the father of the church of God in all future ages, the Gospel Church, under Christ, is the heir of the world.

And I will give unto thee, and to thy seed after thee, the land wherein thou art a stranger, all the land of Canaan, for an everlasting possession; and I will be their God. (Gen 17:8)

Yet there are many who contend that this covenant grant secured to the seed of Abraham the right of a perpetual inheritance of the land of Canaan, and that in virtue of this they are to be restored and reinstated in their ancient possession, and to flourish with more than their pristine glory. It is only in this way, they affirm, that the splendid predictions respecting the later fortunes of Israel are to be fulfilled. But until the great principles of prophetic interpretation are more definitively settled than they are at present, we cannot but deem this a very hazardous theory to maintain, and one which has a bearing far from favourable upon the conversion of the Jews. (Ibid.)

[Barnes] Thirdly, the temporal and the spiritual are brought together. The land of promise is made sure to the heir of promise, "for a perpetual possession," and God engages to "be their God." The phrase "perpetual possession" has here two elements of meaning — first, that the possession, in its coming form of a certain land, shall last as long as the coexisting relations of things are continued; and, secondly, that the said possession in all the variety of its ever grander phases will last absolutely forever. Each form will be perfectly adequate to each stage of a progressive humanity. But in all its forms and at every stage it will be their chief glory that God is their God. (E.B. Pusey, 1800-1882. Barnes Notes.)

That is, the perpetual possession of the literal land was conditioned upon God being their God. Though the apostate "Jewish" kingdom was annihilated in 70 AD in accord with God's condition upon the covenant promise of Canaan, there are those who contend that Genesis 17:8 promised to reinstate the "Jews" to their "promised land" in all the glories of a restored "Jewish kingdom." This is a very hazardous opinion, and is not favourable toward the conversion of the "Jews."

In other words, what motive does a "Jew" have to convert to faith in Christ when he believes that he has the promise of Genesis 17:8 without Christ? When the Judaized church's or Judeo-Christian's faith says that Genesis 17:8 is for a modern "Jewish" nation or Jewish people without Christ, the "Christian" offer of Christ alone through faith alone is a lie.

The spiritual aspect of 17:8 is fulfilled in Christ, and will continue to be fulfilled as long as Christ is on his throne. The literal promise of the physical land of Canaan had a condition attached, keep the law—fear God and keep his commandments, or forfeit the Promised Land. Several things in the 17:8 promise show that the actual fulfillment must be spiritual: 1) thy seed must be Christ. 2) everlasting possession, yet Israel forfeited that possession through sin. 3) I will be their God is clearly fulfilled in the new covenant nation of God, the Gospel Church.

The promise of Genesis 17:8 is a Messianic promise that the resurrected Son of God, Jesus Christ shall be seated at the right hand of all power and authority, and will rule with justice and equity over all creation.

That he should be the heir of the world. An heir is one who succeeds, or is to succeed to an estate. In this passage, the world, or the entire earth, is regarded as the estate to which reference is made; and the promise is, that the posterity of Abraham should succeed to that, or should possess it as their inheritance. ... When the apostle calls him "the heir of the world," he sums up in this comprehensive expression all the promises made to Abraham, intimating that his spiritual descendants, i.e. those who possess his faith shall yet be so numerous as to possess all lands. (Albert Barnes)

That is, the entire earth is the estate of Abraham's seed, which is Christ and of those who are joint heirs with him. (Ps 47: 1-4. Note v. 4 He shall choose our inheritance for us, ... He is the one who chooses us and his Providence directs our steps. Job 23:10, Pro 16:9.)

Heir to the world... Christ was the Claimant of the promise in due time; and under His feet all things, literally all, are set already in right, and shall be hereafter set in fact. To him, Abraham, through his seed, "the uttermost parts of the earth" were given "for his possession." Though Abraham was the patriarchal Chief of a physical family clan, he was the patriarchal Chief of the new kingdom with his seed at its head, Jesus Christ. The promise here is that all the kingdoms of the world would be subdued to Christ.

We see at this hour in literally every region of the human world the messengers — an always more numerous army — of the Name of "the Son of David, the Son of Abraham." They are working everywhere: and everywhere, notwithstanding innumerable difficulties, they are winning the world for the great Heir of the Promise. Through paths they know not these missionaries have gone out; paths hewn by the historical providence of God, and by His eternal life in the Church, and in the soul. When "the world" has seemed shut, by war, by policy, by habit, by geography, it has opened, that they may enter; till we see Japan throwing back its castle doors, and inner Africa not only discovered but become a household word for the sake of its missions, of its martyrdoms, of the resolve of its native chiefs to abolish slavery even in its domestic form."

No secular conscious programme has had to do with this. Causes entirely beyond the reach of human combination have been, as a fact, combined; the world has been opened to the Abrahamic message just as the Church has been inspired anew to enter in, and has been awakened to a deeper understanding of her glorious mission. For here too is the finger of God; not only in the history of the world, but in the life of the Church and of the Christian. (EXPOSITOR BIBLE)

• OBSERVE:

First, "under His feet," or under "his footstool" is his right in prophecy and will be accomplished in fact. In due time, he will claim his right as the head of the new kingdom. The promise of "under His feet all things" is repeated so many times that we will only give one out of at least 7 mentioned: The basis of all of them is the promise in 1) Psalms 110:1 « A Psalm of David. » The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool.

Romans 4:13, The promise is repeated: 2) Matthew 22:44, 3) Mark 12:36, 4) Luke 20:43, 5) Acts 2:34, 35, 6) Hebrews 1:13, 7) Hebrews 10:12, 13. Moreover, Isaiah 66:1 tells us that the entire earth is his footstool. (Matt 5:35, Acts 7:49.) In other words, the entire earth, including his friends and enemies are presently under his footstool.

God is gone up with a shout, the LORD with the sound of a trumpet. 6 Sing praises to God, sing praises: sing praises unto our King, sing praises. 7 For God is the King of all the earth: sing ye praises with understanding. (Ps 47:5)

Under his footstool: 1 Corinthians 15:24-28, the end will not come until he has subdued all things to himself, and he hath submitted all things to the Father.

Second, even now his messengers, more numerous than any physical army and despite the many various sufferings even to the death, are working world-wide to subdue all men and nations unto him through the preaching and teaching of the gospel of the everlasting kingdom.

Third, it is the finger of God, the Spirit of God who is accomplishing a program of subduing the nations of the world to the Son. That work is beyond human understanding or accomplishment.

[Romans 4:13.] "Paul here takes the Jewish conception of the universal dominion of the Messianic theocracy prefigured by the inheritance of Canaan, divests it of its Judaistic element, and raises it to a christological truth." (Vincent, NT Word Studies. Marvin Vincent, professor of New Testament exegesis, Union Theological Seminary. First published, 1887.)

In v. 13, Paul removes the traditional and corrupt Judaistic Messianic element, and presents the Messianic element to the Jews at Rome in its true eschatological understanding of the universal theocratic Messianic kingdom as prophesied by men like Daniel.

In other words, all Old Testament Messianic prophecies were fulfilled with the death, burial and the resurrection of Jesus Christ, and his ascension to the throne of all power and authority over ALL creation. By his grace through faith, his people are united with him in his reign, because as he is, so are we in this world. (1 John 4:17) Even now, by faith the saints are seated with Christ in heavenly places, and have dominion through Christ in this literal world.

Bluntly stated, the Judaic-Christian faith that expects the prophesied Christian Messiah to literally reign in a physical city named Jerusalem is the false faith Paul is dealing with throughout the book of Romans. It is the religion of the Pharisees presented by the false teachers Paul so soundly condemned in all his epistles.

An example of a current false teacher promoting the traditional and corrupt Judaistic Messianic element:

The mystery of the Gospel Church was not fully revealed until Paul. By the time of Paul many corrupt misunderstandings of the Kingdom had been introduced, and are still prevalent in the church.

And the kingdom and dominion, and the greatness of the kingdom under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the most High, whose kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey him. (Dan 7:27)

Daniel tells us that the uttermost parts of the earth shall be given to the people of the saints of the most High through the shed blood of Christ and his victory over death and hell. Even now, multitudes of the king's messengers are proclaiming world-wide the gospel of the kingdom with the goal of subduing all nations to Christ.

Genesis 12:3 and Daniel 7:27 promise those messengers the universal prevalence of the true religion because of the redemptive work of Christ. Twice, God the Son personally told of his establishment of Daniel's prophesied kingdom and dominion in Matthew 3:2 and 4:17.

God the Son, Jesus Christ came personally to this earth, and established his kingdom; he established all the resulting blessings for those he redeemed by his blood, i.e., forgiveness of sin, and peace with God. Christ confirmed his authority to rule when he conquered death and hell at his resurrection.

Genesis 12:3 And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed. Galatians 3:16 Now to Abraham and his seed were the promises made. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, And to thy seed, which is Christ.

That is, all the nations of the world shall be blessed in the seed of Abraham, which is Christ.

Christ alone is heir to the promise, and those who are in Christ by grace through faith are joint heirs with him to all that is promised to the Son. (Theological Dictionary Of The New Testament, TDNT) Christ is the heir to the estate promised to Abraham, and that estate is the whole world. (Barnes)

In Galatians 3:16, Paul tells us that Genesis 12:3 is a direct reference to the blessings of redemption through Jesus Christ, who is the seed of Abraham. He also says that all who have the faith of Abraham are partakers in Abraham's promised blessing of world-wide dominion.

The Jews boasted that they were the heirs to the world through the law, but the law worked wrath upon them. "2. They boasted of their circumcision." (MH) "Paul is telling the Jews in Rome that the Jewish boast in their traditions and circumcision is worthless." (Newell) But heirship belongs to the meek, those who fear the Lord: Matthew 5:5, Psalms 37:11, 25:12-14.

Psalms 25:12 gives us the sure promise that those redeemed by faith in Christ shall inherit the earth through their faithful obedience to their King; their heirship over the literal earth is claimed through faith and preaching and teaching the law-word of God.

Romans 4:14 For if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect:

2 Peter 2:3 According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue: 4 Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these ye might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust.

(Heir, v. 14, "recipient" of the divine promise, which includes "the hope of eternal life." Titus 3:7) 2. Materially the idea of the seizure and possession of the land is important, especially with an eschatological reference. The promise to Abraham is extended to cover permanent possession of the whole earth, e.g., in a messianic fulfillment of #Ge 28:14. (Heirship means possession. TDNT, section D.)

[Rom 4:13] As Abraham was not justified for his circumcision, so neither was it on account of his obedience to the law. If, however, it be preferred to connect this verse with what immediately precedes, the argument is substantially the same. In the preceding verses Paul had said that Abraham is the father of believers; in other words, that believers are his heirs, for the promise that he should inherit the world was made on the condition of faith. The promise here spoken of is, that Abraham and his seed should be the heirs of the world. The word heir, in Scripture, frequently means secure possessor. leb. i. 2, vi. 17, xi. 7, &c. This use of the term probably arose from the fact, that among the Jews possession by inheritance was much more secure and permanent than that obtained by purchase. The promise was not to Abraham, nor to his seed, (ἡ τῷ σπέρματι αὐτοῦ), i. e. neither to the one nor to the other. Both were included in the promise. (Hodge)

That is, Believers are Abraham's heirs, for the promise was made on the condition of faith. It is by God's grace through faith in Jesus Christ that believers are joint heirs with Jesus Christ to the world, Romans 8:17. Moreover, the Jews held that possession by inheritance was much more secure and permanent than that obtained by purchase.

Note that heirship to the literal land of Canaan was promised by law, and possession was taken by violent seizure through physical war with the sword and spear. That possession was to be retained by faithful obedience to the law. The promise also said that failure would result in forfeiture of the land. (Physical circumcision represented that physical promise of the law.)

However, the promise of heirship to the world is not by keeping the law, but by grace through faith. The world is to be taken with non-violent seizure, spiritual warfare using the Sword of the Spirit which is the gospel of peace. Faith assures world-wide possession, and retention by the seed of Abraham until the end of all things. (Spiritual circumcision represents the surety of the promise through faith.)

THE MESSIANIC PROMISE TO ABRAHAM:

And thy seed shall be as the dust of the earth, and thou shalt spread abroad to the west, and to the east, and to the north, and to the south: and in thee and in thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed. (Gen 28:14)

The context tells us that the promise of the actual possession of the world is to the spiritual seed of Abraham through their federal head, Jesus Christ.

Romans 8:17 ¶ And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together. (Eph 3:6, Heb 1:2)

The Father appointed the Son heir of all things. The redeemed are joint heirs with the Son, so the redeemed have been appointed by the Father to be heirs of all things by grace through faith. In Matthew 21:23ff, the inheritance was taken from national Israel and given to the redeemed, who would render the fruits of the vineyard to its owner.

Galatians 3:9 So then they which be of faith are blessed with faithful Abraham. 29 And if ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise.

That is, his seed that is in Christ shall be the literal heirs to the kingdoms of this world. Ephesians 1:8-23:

1) In the fullness of time, the prophesied Messiah came, and established his kingdom on earth. He now sits in his place of total authority and control over all things. 2) By grace through faith in Christ, the Elect become heirs to all that Adam lost. 3) The holy Spirit given to the believer is the proof of that heritage until the final redemption when they go to be with the Lord. 4) All is working according to his good pleasure which he hath purposed in himself, and no man can say, what doest thou? 5) By grace through faith in the Son, all things are being accomplished for the praise of his glory. 6) Paul desires that the Spirit would open the understanding of the Elect to the riches of the inheritance they have in Christ. 7) Paul desires that the Elect would understand that Christ is on his throne of total power and authority which is Far above all principality, and power, and might, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this world, but also in that which is to come: 8) Paul desires that the church would grasp the fact that all things are under his feet, which includes the powers and dominions. 9) Paul desires that the church would act in that power, and subdue the nations to Christ.

Ephesians 1:22, head over all things to the church:

Insomuch that there is nothing that is not subject to him. (Geneva)

“The context tells us that all powers are subdued under his authority. Thus, the universe is under his control and direction for the welfare of his people.” (Barnes)

All things are under his total authority and control for the good of his church, which is his body. Those who touch his body, the Gospel Church, touch the apple of his eye. (Zech 2:8)

Paul continues in Ephesians 2 by expressing his desire that the redeemed would realize that they have been *quicken*ed, and even now are seated with him in heavenly places, and act on that assurance.

Conclusion

ADAM was the fountain head of the fallen race that is in rebellion against God; ABRAHAM was the fountainhead of a new race, or nation that would love and obey God.

ADAM'S race was based in natural birth from beneath; ABRAHAM'S new race was based in a supernatural birth from above.

ADAM'S race was promised blessings based in their obedience to the law; ABRAHAM'S race was promised blessings based on grace.

It is by grace through faith, that the Elect have been called to join his army; they have been given the power of the indwelling Spirit, and have been commissioned to conquer the entire world for Christ.

Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment. (John 7:24) Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom. (Luke 12:32)

Abraham's promise that his seed, Jesus Christ, would be the heir to the world. That heirship belongs to those who have the faith of Abraham, and put active feet to their faith.

Certainly, we live in disquieting times, but God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.

Though the heathen rage and vainly imagine that they can overthrow the LORD and his Christ, he invites his Elect to join with him as he laughs at their vain efforts. The kingdoms of this world belong to the Son, and to those who are in him by his grace through faith. We must rejoice and be glad, for our hope is in him. Let us live in the confidence that the Elect are the heirs to Abraham's promise. Our victory has been won on the Cross..

BEWARE THE "NEW NORMAL"

By Cherie Zaslowsky

President Trump is right that we're at war with an invisible enemy. But that enemy is most emphatically not a virus. He has been lured into fighting the wrong war.

It seems the President's advisors are insisting he focus on Covid-19—the red herring—rather than on the true invisible enemy: the America-hating Left and the elite globalist cabal that's been trying to take down America for years to implement their One World Government “utopia.” Note also that this New World Order plan looks a lot like worldwide Communism, complete with high-tech Big Brother surveillance. It is antithetical to everything America stands for, and all the liberty Americans enjoy.

So let's take a step back and look at the big picture instead of focusing on the spiky ball with the red fuzzy wuzzies sticking out all around it—which is tantamount to watching cartoons while America is burning.

In a 1984 interview, Russian defector Yuri Bezmenov, who had worked for Soviet intelligence and propaganda agencies, revealed that Communism had neither died nor disappeared, and still fully intended to take over the West. Bezmenov went on to explain the psychological warfare methods used by the KGB for the gradual subversion of the political and economic systems of the United States.

He listed four distinct stages in the propaganda war to take over a country, making it a Communist nation, as follows:

Stage 1: “Demoralization” in which Judeo-Christian values and morality are systematically attacked, and people's morals corrupted in every way possible.

Does anyone think this hasn't happened in America?

Stage 2: “Destabilization” in which the country's economy, military and foreign relations are undermined.

Remember Obama's apology tour where he bowed to radical Islamic leaders? Remember Obamacare? Remember how he dismantled our military? Or how he inflamed racial tensions in our nation? Mission accomplished.

Normalization: This is the New World Order with its One World Government

Stage 3: “Crisis” and this is where we are now. Bezmenov says it takes only up to 6 weeks to bring a country to crisis, after which one can radically alter its structure, economy and government.

Anyone think this isn't taking place today?

Stage 4: “Normalization.” This is the end game. This is the goal. This is the New World Order with its One World Government. Call it Worldwide Communism, Technocracy, Global Feudalism, or what you will, it is slavery and misery—for all but the psychopathic elites who engineered it.

What is to be feared and resisted at all costs is this “normalization.”

Alarmingly, we’re already hearing the telltale phrase “new normal” bandied about by the talking heads in the corporate media. In fact, I’ve been receiving emails from corporations I’ve dealt with in the past: banks, airlines, etc., announcing the “new normal.” United Airlines began its email this way, “As we all adjust to this new normal....” This “adjusting” should frighten us far more than an eensy weensy virus from which 99% of people easily recover. And ask yourself why a bizarre, overhyped, presumably unique occurrence of a flu epidemic that is sure to end, as all flu epidemics/pandemics always have, should suddenly, drastically and permanently change the way we live?

But let me address the question of how we got here. Wasn’t this pandemic an accident that originated in a Chinese wet market that sold bats? Well, no. Consider the timing, in the spring of our election year when Trump was clearly unstoppable and producing prosperity that was lifting all boats. Consider how it fulfills so many ambitions of the Democrats, Deep State, and assorted globalists. Too perfect, too overblown, too scripted to have been accidental. And since the perpetrator is invisible, I think we can best view it as a false flag attack designed to take down our nation. The rest of the countries that are suffering the effects of the virus and/or similar lockdowns are likely viewed by the perpetrators as collateral damage.

Also, consider that we were shown video from China, no doubt carefully selected, of people collapsing in the street, followed by the remarkable “shutdown” of whole cities with huge populations, and the few people walking in the empty streets were wearing medical masks. This was the template we were meant to see, and to copy in turn. But China is a Communist dictatorship! Their government can do whatever it wants. America is the opposite of that. Yet this minor distinction got lost in the shuffle. By the way, since when do you quarantine healthy people, let alone quarantine an entire country? I thought you quarantine the sick...but I digress.

If in fact the pandemic was a planned attack on America for multiple nefarious purposes, doesn’t that mean that China engineered it and is alone responsible? Well, no—though clearly China is a co-conspirator in this massive operation, and America is clearly the primary target. But our invisible enemy is also inside our gates. And speaking of gates, the power-mad Mr. Gates himself is probably the most recognizable face of the enemy—his newest weapons being his proposed ID2020 and a rush-job on a new pandemic-related vaccine which he intends to bully everyone on the planet except his elite pals to take. What could possibly go wrong?

Now I’m not saying the virus isn’t real. It is real. I’m not saying no one has died of it. Plenty of people, unfortunately, have died of it. But as we know now, its mortality rate is very similar to that of the seasonal flu. Yes there’ve been “hot spots” but the entire country of America was never, I repeat, never at risk of the 2 million deaths the Medical Deep State was predicting.

Truth be told, and luckily for us, for a virus that was likely created as a bio-weapon, Covid-19 is a bit of a dud. The vast majority of people who get it easily recover. But that is a non-issue for our invisible enemy. They orchestrated the whole “pandemic” as a colossal psy-op using hype and fear-mongering on such a grand scale that they are pulling it off in spite of the virus mortality rates being as low as those of the ordinary flu we have each year—magnitudes lower than those of SARS or MERS or Ebola—for which we never shut down our nation. This is the power of the complicit media, reminiscent of the movie Wag the Dog (If you have not seen the move, see it! Ed.) in which an entire fake war is staged, filmed and broadcast to the public for political purposes. How much more diabolical is the current media manipulation of the American people.

But even if the death toll had been much higher, would combating the virus be worth losing our liberty and livelihood and Constitution? I’m with Patrick Henry on that one.

Democrats were increasingly desperate to oust Trump

One more point: Recall that the Democrats were increasingly desperate to oust Trump, both to cover up their own treasonous coup plot and assorted felonies, and to position themselves for a win in November. And to add to their miseries, the Bern returned. The Dems knew they could pay off the ol’ Commie like they did last time, but all the kids getting excited over Bernie was worrisome to them. Who else could they go with? Liawatha? Little Mike? How about someone safe, whom they could position as a moderate to counter Trump? Of course: Sleepy Joe. Never mind that Biden’s dementia was worsening by the day. Get him in and make his running mate...let's see...how about Michelle Obama? That way they could sneak Barry back into the White House to finish off the job of dismantling our Republic that he'd been so successful at during his 8 years with his feet on the desk in the Oval Office when he could tear himself away from the golf course.

Destruction of America was always their goal. What a coincidence that the Wuhan flu epidemic came along just in time to greatly help the Democrats and fulfill so many of Nancy Pelosi's prayers. Apparently, they got tired of waiting to take Trump down, which wasn't working anyway, so they decided to go for broke now, no doubt with the international globalist NWO types behind them. Hence the false flag operation known as Covid-19.

Back to Mr. Bezmenov.

In that same 1984 interview, he warned Americans of a "ticking time bomb" unrecognized in our midst: "If people fail to grasp the imminence of this danger and this development, nothing will help the United States. You can say goodbye to your freedoms. All your freedoms disappear; they will be charred in a few seconds—and with your precious lives."

Now ask yourself: haven't our freedoms literally disappeared—haven't they been "charred" in a few weeks? Look around you. We're not in Kansas anymore. We're not even recognizable as America today. In fact in California, Governor Newsom has all but declared martial law, threatening to bring in police to keep people off the beach! Just as bad if not worse, he's outlawed a planned protest in Sacramento by refusing to issue the requested permit. I suspect angry citizens will show up anyway, carrying their own permits: pocket versions of the Constitution.

Will these outrages, oppression, and governmental tyranny become the "new normal" in America?

Going back to the "new normal" once more, The Atlantic ran an article with the headline: The Pandemic Will Change American Retail Forever. This is not good news. Small business retail, which is what that article refers to, represents American entrepreneurialism at its best—people pursuing their happiness, and adding to ours in the process. These hardworking, largely middle class people are the backbone of America. The middle class is America! That's part of what makes us unique. Most countries have plenty of poor people and a small group of fat cats at the top—but no middle class. And without our small businesses, life would be instantly grimmer. Imagine nothing but Amazon's online empire and a few big box stores with poor quality stuff from China—yes, China— for sale. Might as well stay home for good so you don't have to put on your suffocating face mask anymore—because the powers-that-be may well make that particular unhealthy indignity permanent.

Will these outrages, oppression, and governmental tyranny become the "new normal" in America? As Patrick Henry once proclaimed, "Is life so dear, or peace so sweet, as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God!"

Can we come through this nightmare and take our country back? I believe we can.

But I also believe that the longer the lockdowns and shutdowns are allowed to continue, the harder it will be to ever return to the America we know and love. I'm concerned that many people will be psychologically imprinted with this "new normal," in which they have essentially become passive wards of the state.

Patriots need to recognize how high the stakes are and to act accordingly.

And President Trump needs to fight the real war—the one that is on the verge of taking down America for good!

THE EMERGING BEAST GOVERNMENT

AND THE 'NEW NORMAL.'

The 'new normal' and Scott Lively predicts elites will establish 'Global Debt Jubilee' and mandate participation

By Scott Lively

After reading Cherie Zaslowsky's great article "Beware the New Normal" yesterday on Canada Free Press, it suddenly struck me that the dystopian "new normal" of COVID-19 really IS normal from the perspective of the leftist elites, and all these blue-state governors and blue-city mayors reveling in their new dictatorial powers truly don't have a clue what normal is for average Americans. They live in an ideological fantasy world where good is evil and evil good, family configurations are arbitrary, and people who disagree are witless boobs needing reeducation. They are sheltered from the reality of true morality, natural society and freedom of thought by a cocoon of comprehensive cradle-to-grave government provision (or their own "legacy wealth") – so completely separated from the "old normal" that they can't even connect the dots between the tax revenue they gorge themselves upon and the taxpayers who provide it.

Case in point is the tyrant Gavin Newsom whose response to the citizens' defiant pursuit of healing sunlight and saltwater at California beaches – one of the healthiest disease-suppressing environments available anywhere – is the iron fist of reprisal. But a separate Newsom dictate is even more revealing: the announcement that public schools will open "in weeks not months," but Christian churches must wait "months not weeks."

To the leftist mind public schools are essential because they help to separate children emotionally and ideologically from their Neanderthal parents, while Bible-believing churches do the opposite. And especially critical for the "new normal" is helping the children put the COVID-19 crisis in proper context: They must be helped to recognize it as a consequence of, first, the dangerously incompetent mismanagement of the Trump administration, and second, the adult generation's denial of the biggest crisis of all – "climate change."

This reminds me of (my wife Anne's favorite) culture analyst Peter Jones' contention that the new religion for the masses is actually not a variation on any of the old-world religions, or even Marxist Humanism (as I have argued) but a form of Romantic Paganism. That's the theology the kids and young adults have been indoctrinated with – from "Star Wars" to "Harry Potter" to "Game of Thrones": a theology of mysticism in which mortals with the right attitude and training can wield supernatural powers. It is reminiscent of the pre-Gutenberg serfs of the Middle Ages, when only the Roman Catholic elites had the Bible, and the masses interpreted the Latin ritual of the Eucharist "Hoc est enim corpus meum" (the body of Christ) as "Hocus Pocus" – a magic trick. And isn't it interesting that Pope Francis, whose speech kicked off the U.N.'s 2030 Agenda (yes, the very globalist agenda) is the one who blamed COVID-19 on climate change denial (the revenge of Mother Earth).

To be sure, the elites themselves are mostly high-church Marxist Humanists, but the secularized "common people" now have the less intellectual and more emotional religion of the earth and its "familiar spirits," while the true believers in the "old gods" (Jesus, Muhammad, et al.) are kept busy fighting each other for turf (especially in Christian Europe and North America) through the "open borders" strategy.

Now, back to Gavin Newsom and the other principalities and powers of the "new normal." I suggested above that they can't connect the dots between taxpayers and tax revenue, but that's not really true. They may be psychopathic, but they're not stupid. So why would these despots kill the goose that lays the golden eggs? Could it be that they have foreknowledge of a new financial order being readied for implementation – one perhaps requiring the collapse of the old? Is it mere coincidence that so many CEOs of the elite strata – such as Bill Gates and Michael Eisner – resigned just before the COVID-19 stock market crash?

My guess is the new system is ready to roll out like a new company "going public" with an Initial Public Offering (IPO) in which the insider elites, as always, already hold generous portions in their shiny new Beast-Market portfolios. I'm guessing it will be initiated with a "Global Debt Jubilee" – in which all preexisting debts of any kind are wiped clean worldwide, but only for those who accept membership in the new system (with a mark on their hand or forehead?), and those who do not are blamed for all the problems caused by not being able to "close the books" on the old system – leading to severe persecution (even from fellow "believers") for those who refuse to "take the mark."

We've long endured a wealth-perpetuated caste system in the "free world"; it's how the elites have remained the elites, while pushing socialism on the rest of us. Tucker Carlson did a great commentary on this theme recently, asking first how the dull-witted Chris Cuomo managed to get into Yale to then expose the larger conspiracy of elite schools routinely admitting the merit-less children of mostly Democrat politicians. The super-rich set themselves apart from the rest of us and steer the policies of the world system to suit themselves. That's a point I expounded upon in my recent lecture for the Salt and Light network: "Marxism, Eugenics and Transhumanism.”

As depressing as it may be to think we may never recover pre-COVID-19 America, it is even more disturbing to realize we now consider that “old normal” a good one by comparison. I suppose all things are relative when it comes to this fallen world.

But we who are in Christ are not of this world. He told us in John 17 to be in it, but not of it. Our duty as American is to fight like Patrick Henry to restore the earthly kingdom God has blessed us with, while keeping the wins and losses in perspective like Paul the Apostle in the time of the Romans.

And just as God allows us aging humans to experience increasing aches and pains as we are prepared for leaving our earthly bodies, He has warned us of tribulation before His second coming, when we will receive glorified spiritual bodies. That’s the “new normal” I’m yearning for!

A WORD ABOUT THE COVID-19 VIRUS.

They sure did not have to name it after me, C Ovid.

The whole situation has fit so well into the plan of the One Worlders that it appears that it has been planned for some time.

God has allowed a flu virus, called COVID-19, to be effectively used to turn this now godless nation we live in to be turned into a very oppressive police state, a state that places its healthy citizens under house arrest in order to reduce this nation to shambles. It looks like this trial run to see how easily it would be to destroy the Bill of Rights in the hearts and minds of the people has been a resounding success.

By the numbers

287 The reading score for 17-year-old Americans on the National Assessment of Educational Progress in 2015. This was virtually unchanged from the score of 286 in 1975. Scores on both reading and math have been essentially flat since the early 1970s, despite the more than doubling of spending per student and a sharp increase in the number of teachers per student. A Department of Education report concluded: “Average reading and mathematics achievement for 17-year-olds did not change significantly between the early 1970s and 2012 or between 2008 and 2012.”

10.3 The percentage increase in the number of students in U.S. public schools between 1970 and 2016, according to a September study by the American Enterprise Institute. The increase was from 45.9 million to 50.6 million. (Many are probably immigrants who cannot read, write nor speak English. Ed.)

57 The percentage increase in the number of teachers in U.S. public schools between 1970 and 2016—from about 2 million to 3.17 million—according to the AEI study.

147 The percentage increase in nonteaching staffers in U.S. public schools between 1970 and 2016—from 1.4 million to 3.3 million—according to AEI. (Like all tax-payer funded instructions, the expansion is not in workers, but in bloating the staff.)

150 The percentage increase, adjusted for inflation, in per-pupil spending in U.S. public schools between 1970 and 2016—from $4,934 to $12,220—according to AEI.

World Magazine. 2/27/20

Note:

First, spending doubles but no increase in output. Second, 57% increase in workers, but no increase in output. Third, 147% increase by bloating nonteaching staff. Fourth, 150% spending increase per-pupil, but no increase in output.

However, the parents and public seem to be generally pleased with the outcome in the Greek education system with its emphasis on sports, so we are being forced to pour our money down this rat hole. The only progress in the education realm is more commitment to socialism-communism, more destruction of Christian thought and more jobs for “support” staff.

Basically, the total inefficient system should be dismantled.

“Now I will tell you the answer to my question. It is this. The Party seeks power entirely for its own sake. We are not interested in the good of others; we are interested solely in power, pure power. What pure power means you will understand presently. We are different from the oligarchies of the past in that we know what we are doing. All the others, even those who resembled ourselves, were cowards and hypocrites. The German Nazis and the Russian Communists came very close to us in their methods, but they never had the courage to recognize their own motives. They pretended, perhaps they even believed, that they had seized power unwillingly and for a limited time, and that just around the corner there lay a paradise where human beings would be free and equal. We are not like that. We know that no one ever seizes power with the intention of relinquishing it. Power is not a means; it is an end. One does not establish a dictatorship in order to safeguard a revolution; one makes the revolution in order to establish the dictatorship. The object of persecution is persecution. The object of torture is torture. The object of power is power. Now you begin to understand me.”

YouTube censors video criticizing Fauci and coronavirus response

Features virologist who worked with White House health adviser. YouTube has censored a video featuring a virologist who once worked with Dr. Anthony Fauci who questions the government’s approach to the coronavirus pandemic.

In the video – which apparently violates the platform’s requirement that any views expressed on the pandemic cannot be in conflict with the World Health Organization – Dr. Judy Mikovits contends the isolate-everyone policy is a big mistake and claims officials have a financial incentive to implement mass vaccinations.

PLANDeimic (Dr. Judy Mikovits) Judy A. Mikovits, PhD, earned her BA from University of Virginia and PhD in Biochemistry and Molecular Biology from George Washington University. In just over twenty years she rose from an entry-level lab technician to become director of the lab of Antiviral Drug Mechanisms at the National Cancer Institute before leaving to direct the Cancer Biology program at EpiGenX Pharmaceuticals in Santa Barbara, California. There in 2006, she became attracted to the plight of patients with Chronic Fatigue Syndrome and Autism. In only five years she developed the first neuroimmune institute from a concept to a reality and is primarily responsible for demonstrating the relationship between immune based inflammation and these diseases. She has published over 50 scientific papers.

Dr. Judy Mikovits, PHD, Research Scientist. She is the author of “Plague of Corruption - Restoring Faith in the Promise of Science.” She brings to light Dr. Anthony Fauci’s corruption and suppression of HIV medical studies and treatments. Obviously, Dr. Mikovits has been and is “subjected to a vicious campaign of intimidation and outright deception, all because she asserted a few simple truths.” She had to be destroyed, and was driven into bankruptcy. Though publicly her research is dismissed as a meaningless waste of money, others are making fortunes from her research.

It was Dr. Mikovits' research that showed the relationship of the XMRV mouse retrovirus to Chronic Fatigue Syndrome, and then Autism, and other diseases, that brought about much trouble for her. The data showed that 6% of the U.S. population is harboring a retrovirus in their bodies. Dr. Mikovits spoke the truth about the fraudulent use of government research money, the marketing of inaccurate retrovirus tests, Medicare fraud, the contaminated blood supply, and the harm that is associated with vaccines and their schedule of administration. Her research showed how retroviruses are linked to the plague of modern illnesses that are bankrupting the U.S. healthcare system. She was arrested without a warrant and held in jail for 5 days without the opportunity for bail as a fugitive from justice. Her career was destroyed.

Her story is documented in the book Plague: One Scientist's intrepid Search For the Truth about Human Retroviruses and Chronic Fatigue Syndrome, Autism, and Other Diseases.

<http://plaguethebook.com/plague-of-corruption/>

Dr. Judy Mikovits, Research Scientist and co-author of the book "Plague" on ME/CFS and autism, covering a newly discovered retrovirus that was linked to chronic fatigue syndrome (CFS), prostate cancer, lymphoma, and eventually neuro-developmental disorders in children. Dr. Mikovits spent twenty-years at the National Cancer Institute. She was WRONGFULLY jailed, but is now speaking out.

PLAGUE: Vaccines and Retroviruses: A Whistleblower (Dr. Mikovits) Reveals What the Government is Hiding

"Data suggests that 6% of the U.S. population is harboring a retrovirus in their bodies that can develop into an acquired immune deficiency. This is not the well-known AIDS caused by HIV, but Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS) associated with other retroviruses. These non-HIV retroviruses were unintentionally introduced into humans over the past 75 years.

It began with trials of polio vaccines and yellow fever vaccines given in the early 1930s. This is when the first recorded cases of Chronic Fatigue Syndrome and autism appeared. It involved the use of laboratory mice to prepare vaccines for human use. ... Retrovirus exposure intensified in the 1970s as new vaccines and pharmaceutical products were developed. These retroviruses and related infectious agents are now associated with dozens of modern chronic illnesses – perhaps nearly all of them. In these diseases, infection leads to inflammation — and unresolved inflammation can lead to chronic disease. ..."

Her research has proved that retroviruses are associated with Chronic Lyme disease, Chronic Lymphocytic Leukemia, autism spectrum disorder (ASD), numerous cancers, and a wide range of other autoimmune, neuro-immune, and central nervous system diseases. (A comprehensive list of diseases is at the end of this article.)

Humanity is imprisoned by a killer pandemic. People are being arrested for surfing in the ocean and meditating in nature. Nations are collapsing. Hungry citizens are rioting for food. The media has generated so much confusion and fear that people are begging for salvation in a syringe. Billionaire patent owners are pushing for globally mandated vaccines. Anyone who refuses to be injected with experimental poisons will be prohibited from travel, education and work. No, this is not a synopsis for a new horror movie. This is our current reality.

Let's back up to address how we got here...

In the early 1900s, America's first Billionaire, John D. Rockefeller bought a German pharmaceutical company that would later assist Hitler to implement his eugenics-based vision by manufacturing chemicals and poisons for war. Rockefeller wanted to eliminate the competitors of Western medicine, so he submitted a report to Congress declaring that there were too many doctors and medical schools in America, and that all natural healing modalities were unscientific quackery. Rockefeller called for the standardization of medical education, whereby only his organization be allowed to grant medical school licenses in the US. And so began the practice of immune suppressive, synthetic and toxic drugs. Once people had become dependent on this new system and the addictive drugs it provided, the system switched to a paid program, creating lifelong customers for the Rockefellers. Currently, medical error is the third leading cause of death in the US. Rockefeller's secret weapon to success was the strategy known as, "problem-reaction-solution." Create a problem, escalate fear, then offer a pre-planned solution. Sound familiar?

Flash forward to 2020...

They named it COVID19. Our leaders of world health predicted millions would die. The National Guard was deployed. Makeshift hospitals were erected to care for a massive overflow of patients. Mass graves were dug. Terrifying news reports had people everywhere seeking shelter to avoid contact. The plan was unfolding with diabolical precision, but the masters of the Pandemic underestimated one thing... the people. Medical professionals and every-day citizens are sharing critical information online. The overlords of big tech have ordered all dissenting voices to be silenced and banned, but they are too late. The slumbering masses are awake and aware that something is not right. Quarantine has provided the missing element: time. Suddenly, our overworked citizenry has ample time to research and investigate for themselves. Once you see, you can't unsee.

The window of opportunity is open like never before. For the first time in human history, we have the world's attention. Plandemic will expose the scientific and political elite who run the scam that is our global health system, while laying out a new plan; a plan that allows all of humanity to reconnect with healing forces of nature. 2020 is the code for perfect vision. It is also the year that will go down in history as the moment we finally opened our eyes.

IT HAD TO COME

The heathen are in horrible rage against the Lord and his Christ. If possible, the heathen would ascend into heaven and stab the Lord in the heart, as they did on the cross, but that is not possible. So they must take out their rage against the Lord on his followers.

The state must keep the children in its education system, by force if necessary, in their vain attempt to overthrow God. The state must work to bring homeschooling under control, the same as the Communist Chinese must bring the church under control. Independent thinking, particularly Christian thinking in educating the children the state claims ownership over, is a threat to the ungodly state. Though the average Christian parent seems to have no concept of the fact that training their children up apart from the state and in the nurture and admonition of the Lord means that another kingdom is at work within the kingdom of man. It took many years, but the Kingdom of God overthrew the kingdom of man when Galerius issued his Edict of Toleration, 311 AD, followed by Constantine I's, Edict of Milan, AD 313. Pagan Rome fell to the Kingdom of God because the saints would not do obeisance to the kingdom of men. Christians would not compromise with the world around them.

Christian homeschooling is a serious threat to the life of the pagan state, so it must view Christianity as treason against the state that sees itself as god on earth.

COVID-19 BLESSINGS:

By Tony Perkins

The coronavirus has made life miserable for plenty of people -- but for the extreme Left, it's a nightmare. For the first time in recent memory, America's children are learning at home, beyond the public schools' grasp. Amazingly, this outbreak, for all of its devastation, has managed to do what no one else could: free some kids from the daily drumbeat of liberal indoctrination. Suddenly, parents are the ones managing their children's schooling -- and there's nothing more dangerous to the Left's long-term agenda than parents finding out what that agenda consists of.

Maybe that's why the attacks on homeschooling, strange and absurd as they've been, have started to hit with more intensity. To a lot of people, it seemed odd that Harvard's Elizabeth Bartholet would pick now to declare war on one of the most successful education movements in the country before COVID-19: homeschooling. But with the majority of parents being thrust into their kids' day-to-day learning, liberals must have sensed the threat. For one, the parents who've become "accidental homeschoolers" might realize they like the flexibility it offers. Secondly, even if their kids are just distance learning from home, these moms and dads are seeing firsthand what their children are being taught. And for extremists, who thrive on secrecy to push their radical gender, sexual, anti-Christian agendas, that's a problem. Homeschooling has always been a thorn in the liberals' side. It takes away their access to kids and their natural recruiting grounds: the public classroom. So now, as their competition gets a boost from the virus, Bartholet and company are trying to throw shade at anyone considering it by writing an out-of-touch diatribe about how "dangerous" it is for parents to have "control" over their children. And frankly, that should offend every mom and dad -- whether they homeschool or not. It arrogantly implies that the state knows how to raise their kids better than they do. But the problem is, children don't belong to the state. They belong to parents. And it's their right and responsibility to rear them as they see fit.

Bartholet doesn't see it that way. Teaching kids at home, she argues, deprives them of a "meaningful education." But what she really means is that it deprives them of the Left's version of meaningful. A version that scorns biology, despises religion, rejects gender, embraces deviance, stifles speech, and encourages promiscuity. "There was a time," FRC's Cathy Ruse points out, "when we could say that the culture had shared values." Back then, parents could trust the public schools to reinforce those values -- or at least not undermine the ones they're instilling at home. "But we're not there anymore," she laments. Now, it's become a competition of whose values are going to prevail. And the virus is giving parents a real opportunity, Cathy says, to look at education differently, to enjoy being with their kids, and to see the benefits of in-home learning.

Which is why, to the Left's dismay, so many people have come out swinging against Bartholet's unsubstantiated tirade. Melba Pearson, a graduate of Harvard and a homeschooler through high school, was disgusted that her alma mater would suggest that the government, “already so inefficient and inadequate in so many areas... has more of a right to educate, care for, and control your children than you, their parents, do.” It’s an attack, she insists, “on the fundamental rights and freedoms that make our country (and until recently, institutions such as Harvard) what they are.”

Meanwhile, if liberals are threatened by anything, it should be homeschoolers’ success. They “consistently,” Melba points out, “test approximately 30 percent higher than the national public-school average in all subjects tested. [And they] consistently demonstrate higher high school GPAs, higher SAT/ACT scores, and higher first year college GPAs.” How do government schools counter? With “higher levels of abuse, bullying, suicide, and drop-out rates in children and young adults...”

That’s why, contrary to what the media would have you believe, homeschooling is such a diverse movement. “You’ve got people on the Left [and] the Right who homeschool for many reasons,” Mike Donnelly pointed out on “Washington Watch.” “They have children with special needs. They want their children to be able to pursue their own interests. They’re not happy with the state of the public schools [or its] content...” This whole crisis is opening up a whole new world to others who never considered it. And, as Mike said, “I think a lot of people, a year from now, are going to look back on this pandemic, and they’re going to point [it] as a time when they realized that homeschooling is [a good option]. We like having our kids at home. We like this relationship. We [like the] flexibility...”

As a family who’s homeschooled all five children, I can tell you that it’s the most challenging and rewarding thing you can do as parents. Looking back on it, my wife and I have never regretted our choice, because of the relationships we built with our kids and the open communication we enjoy -- even now, as they embark on their own lives and careers. If you want to explore this as a more permanent option, check out Home School Legal Defense Association’s new website, MomPossible.org. It’ll help you sort through options that are out there and find ways to cope with these sudden changes. Or, if you need some content for the here and now, try our educational resources. Either way, take some time to pray about whether homeschooling is an option for your family. You won’t regret it.

If you ask most protestors in the states, it’s the hypocrisy that’s bothering them -- not the commonsense rules. In places like Washington State, columnists raged at the double standards of governors like Jay Inslee (D), whose orders insist, “Private home construction must stop, but Sound Transit construction can continue. Private landscapers are out of work, but [counties] can still dispatch crews to trim grass in closed parks...” In Michigan, you can’t buy flower seeds, but you can buy weed. And in Kansas, families can drive-through a Sonic, but not parking lot church service.

<https://www.frc.org/get.cfm?i=WA20D51&f=WU20D15>

Notice how well the COVID-19 economic shutdown permits the State to act as god on earth, as various governors claim to be the god over his state. Each god controls his area by telling stores and factories when to be open. The god tells his citizens when, where and how they can leave their home.

Personal note: One would have a difficult time convincing me this “Pandemic and lockdown” is not a planned political event to further destroy the Bill of Rights. Flu viruses of the past have had much deadlier results, yet only a few schools were shut down as a result, and no factories. Under Obama, a Chinese firm bought Smithfield, America’s largest pork producer; China shut down Smithfield with better than 1/3 of meat production in the US.

This flu season has revealed the beyond stupid, idealistic thinking of a few decades ago. That is, the “thinkers and planners” preached that by making China wealthy, the people would move toward free enterprise. Now we are at the mercy of the Chinese Communist Party that controls much of our food supply, as well as the vast portion of our technology. We not only provided China with the technology, but supplied them with factories. Now, we cannot build anything high tech without China. Actually, we could not go to war with China without China. The West’s “Philosopher Kings” since the Communists took over China after WWII, with no opposition from the West, have made us servants to the Communist Party.

Hence, the state that believes it is god on earth must see any Christian challenge to its claim as god on earth as a challenge from the devil. (The “West” is seen as the devil, because the “West” challenges those nations that claim to be god.) Those “workers of evil,” i.e., Christian homeschoolers, must be brought under control for the security and safety of the state. Rome persecuted Christians because they considered the Christians atheists.

That is, they denied the Roman gods, and would not bow down to them. (Knowing Scripture, Christians see sodomy, abortion, immorality, immodesty, drunkenness, &c., as the true means of the destruction of the state. America is in the midst of an immodest crisis. Even Christian women, and men, seem to see no problem showing a lot of skin, and wearing revealing “clothing” that leaves little or nothing to the imagination. Much of women’s clothing today is eather skin, or is little more than colored underwear—the pantyhose of a few years ago. Where are the messages from those Bible believing preachers against women wearing their underwear in public? (I will send a copy of “The Undressing of America” by Jeff Pollard upon request.)

The modern godless state must consider training in the laws of justice and equity, the law-word of God, as did Rome. Those who are obedient to the Christian faith are considered atheists, for they do not worship the state’s gods. Therefore, if children are allowed to be exempt from the state’s education, pre-school through college, then it is just a matter of time until the state will be overthrown. It took 200 years of faithful and consistent Christian living to overthrow Rome.

And it will be overthrown, 1 Cor 15:24-28. Joe Morecraft’s message on 1 Cor 15 is worth your time to hear, particularly in our present day of distress: <https://www.sermonaudio.com/saplayer/playpopup.asp?SID=62116177510>

The wicked fear that the Christian students will be instructed in godliness, and that there is a God in heaven... that liveth for ever, whose dominion is an everlasting dominion, and his kingdom is from generation to generation: 35 And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: and none can stay his hand, or say unto him, What doest thou? (Dan 2)

Those students will then go out into a crooked and perverse world

That ye may be blameless and harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world; (Philip 2:15)

OUR DRESS REHEARSAL FOR A POLICE STATE

Liberty is jeopardized more than at any time since America’s founding

By Dennis Prager, April 27, 2020

All my life, I have dismissed paranoids on the right (“America is headed to communism”) and the left (“It can happen here” – referring to fascism). It’s not that I’ve ever believed liberty was guaranteed. Being familiar with history and a pessimist regarding the human condition, I never believed that.

But the ease with which police state tactics have been employed and the equal ease with which most Americans have accepted them have been breathtaking.

People will argue that a temporary police state has been justified because of the allegedly unique threat to life posed by the new coronavirus. I do not believe the data will bear that out. Regardless, let us at least agree that we are closer to a police state than ever in American history.

“Police state” does not mean totalitarian state. America is not a totalitarian state; we still have many freedoms. In a totalitarian state, this article could not be legally published, and if it were illegally published, I would be imprisoned and/or executed. But we are presently living with all four of the key hallmarks of a police state:

No. 1: Draconian laws depriving citizens of elementary civil rights: The federal, state, county and city governments are now restricting almost every freedom except those of travel and speech. Americans have been banned from going to work (and thereby earning a living), meeting in groups (both indoors and outdoors), meeting in their cars in church parking lots to pray and entering state-owned properties such as beaches and parks – among many other prohibitions.

No. 2: A mass media supportive of the state’s messaging and deprivation of rights: The New York Times, CNN and every other mainstream mass medium – except Fox News, The Wall Street Journal (editorial and opinion pages only) and talk radio – have served the cause of state control over individual Americans’ lives just as Pravda served the Soviet government. In fact, there is almost no more dissent in The New York Times than there was in Pravda. And the Big Tech platforms are removing posts about the virus and potential treatments they deem “misinformation.”

No. 3: Use of police: Police departments throughout America have agreed to enforce these laws and edicts with what can only be described as frightening alacrity. After hearing me describe police giving summonses to, or even arresting, people for playing baseball with their children on a beach, jogging alone without a mask, or worshipping on Easter while sitting isolated in their cars in a church parking lot, a police officer called my show. He explained that the police have no choice. They must respond to every dispatch they receive.

“And why are they dispatched to a person jogging on a beach or sitting alone in a park?” I asked.

Because the department was informed about these lawbreakers.

“And who told the police about these lawbreakers?” I asked.

His answer brings us to the fourth characteristic of a police state:

No. 4: Snitches: How do the police dispatchers learn of lawbreakers such as families playing softball in a public park, lone joggers without face masks, etc.? From their fellow citizens snitching on them. The mayor of New York City, Bill de Blasio, set up a “snitch line,” whereby New Yorkers were told to send authorities photos of fellow New Yorkers violating any of the quarantine laws. Los Angeles Mayor Eric Garcetti similarly encouraged snitching, unabashedly using the term.

It is said that about 1 in every 100 East German citizens were informers for the Stasi, the East German secret police, as superbly portrayed in the film “The Lives of Others.” It would be interesting, and, I think, important, to know what percentage of New Yorkers informed on their fellow citizens. Now, again, you may think such a comparison is not morally valid, that de Blasio’s call to New Yorkers to serve a Stasi-like role was morally justified given the coronavirus pandemic. But you cannot deny it is Stasi-like or that, other than identifying spies during World War II, this is unprecedented in American history at anywhere near this level.

This past Friday night, I gathered with six others for a Shabbat dinner with friends in Santa Monica, California. On my Friday radio show, I announced I would be doing that, and if I was arrested, it would be worth it. In my most pessimistic dreams, I never imagined that in America, having dinner at a friend’s house would be an act of civil disobedience, perhaps even a criminal act. But that is precisely what happens in a police state.

The reason I believe this is a dress rehearsal is that too many Americans appear untroubled by it; the dominant force in America, the left, supports it, and one of the two major political parties has been taken over by the left. Democrats and their supporters have, in effect, announced they will use state power to enforce any law they can to combat the even greater “existential” crisis of global warming.

On the CNN website this weekend, in one of the most frightening and fanatical articles in an era of fanaticism, Bill Weir, CNN chief climate correspondent, wrote an open letter to his newborn son. In it, he wrote of his idealized future for America: “completely new forms of power, food, construction, transportation, economics and politics.”

You cannot get there without a police state.

If you love liberty, you must see that it is jeopardized more than at any time since America’s founding. And that means, among other things, that at this time, a vote for any Democrat is a vote to end liberty.

The national news media has made it a priority to create undue fear in people. Fear causes one to lose sight of reality, and willingly yield his freedom for supposed safety.

GOD’S INFALLIBLE PROVIDENCE

Pastor Ron Rumburg

“Thou, even thou, art LORD alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all.” (Nehe-miah 9:6)

How do you cope with the events in your life, especially those that smash you in the face as it were? How do you handle events contrary to what you believe to be in your best interest? What about the present pandemic? Do you believe that all things, bad and good, work together for your best interests if you love God (Rom. 8:28)? Or are you a believer in an Alice in Wonderland type of religion? What about catastrophic events? How do you relate to over 900,000 Christians being martyred in the last 10 years for their faith in the Lord Jesus Christ? [This was according to a Christian research firm affiliated with Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary in Massachusetts.]

God in His infallible providence upholds and governs every created thing and He preserves them all. This providence is operative over space and time, and is as an ever flowing river working His will. All God's attributes are engaged in managing His world. "He that denies providence denies God's attributes, His omniscience which is the eye of providence, His mercy and justice which are the arms of providence, His power which is its life and motion, His wisdom which is the rudder whereby providence is steered, and holiness the compass and rule of its motion" (Charnock). God provides food for the raven, and satisfies the desire of every living thing. He sends the rain on the just and the unjust as well as plagues and quakes and tornadoes. Also, every good and perfect gift comes from above from the unchangeable Father (James 1:17). All creation looks up to him and depends upon him (Job 38:41; Ps 104:1-35; 145:15-16; 147:8-9) and uniformly declares that every event, as well as every being, is controlled by Him to ultimately work His will. There is no such thing as chance in God's universe. Nothing was too large for God to create, even so nothing is too small for him to preserve and control. Someone said that providence displays God's omnipresence, holiness, justice, and benevolence. If the telescope reveals the immense magnitude and countless hosts of galaxies which He created and sustains, then the microscope shows that His providence equally concerns itself with the minutest microscopic form of life. Nothing is really small with God. He hangs the earth on nothing. We cannot understand completely why evil was ever allowed by God in His world; but He overrules it for good. If no fallible beings had been created there could have been no virtue, for virtue implies probation, and probation implies liability to temptation and sin.

T. H. L. Parker noted, "In sum, the doctrine of providence tells us that the world and our lives are not ruled by chance or by fate but by God, who lays bare his purposes of providence in the incarnation of His Son." Redemption is not an accident or afterthought with God. Providence is foresight (pronoia) "forethought" (Acts 24:2). When it is applied to God, it expresses His never ceasing power exerted in and over all His works. It is the opposite of "chance," "fortune," or "luck." God in His providence maintains creation. God's providence is concerned in the fall of a bird; His children are of more value than many birds, and therefore they are assured of His providential care in all their concerns. He controls all things for His highest good and the good of the whole, acting upon all His creation conformably to its nature: inanimate things by physical influences, critters according to instinct, and men according to the laws of creation.

Our verse pointed out that Jehovah preserves the heavens, the earth and all things therein. Wilhelmus à Brakel asserted, "That the providence of God pertains to everything ... revealed in nature and in Scripture that whoever denies the providence of God is no better than an atheist, or at best, must be considered as blind as a mole."

William Cowper, the great English poet, at thirty-two years of age went through a great crisis in his life. He tried but failed to end his life by taking laudanum. Then he hired a coach and was driven to the Thames where he intended to throw himself into the river; but some power seemed to restrain him. The next morning he fell upon a knife, but the blade broke and his life was saved. He then tried to hang himself, and was cut down unconscious but still alive. Then one morning, in a moment of strange cheerfulness he took up his Bible and read a verse in the Letter to the Romans (3:25). In a moment he received strength to believe on the Lord Jesus Christ in forgiveness of sin which led to his rejoicing in the forgiving power of God. Cowper could then write, "There is a fountain filled with blood, drawn from Immanuel's veins, and sinners plunged beneath that flood lose all their guilty stains." Sometime later, while he was basking in the riches of the grace of God and after he had written many beautiful hymns, Cowper sat down one day and summed up his faith in God's dealings with him, and with others by writing the great hymn on divine providence. He wrote, "God moves in a mysterious way, His wonders to perform He plants His footsteps in the sea, and rides upon the storm." Cowper's life had been divinely saved and by providence blessed. Oh, that we might cry out with him when he wrote, "O for a closer walk with God! A calm and heavenly frame, a light to shine upon the road, that leads me to the Lamb!"

God moves in a mysterious way, / His wonders to perform / He plants his footsteps in the sea, / And rides upon the storm.

Ye fearful saints, fresh courage take; / The clouds ye so much dread / Are big with mercy, and shall break / With blessings on your head.

Judge not the Lord by feeble sense, / But trust him for his grace; / Behind a frowning providence / He hides a smiling face.

His purposes will ripen fast, / Unfolding every hour; / The bud may have a bitter taste, / But sweet will be the flower.

Blind unbelief is sure to err, / And scan his work in vain; / God is his own interpreter, / And he will make it plain.

William Cowper (1731-1800) Trinity Hymnal, p. 21

JUDAISM—A LOOK INSIDE

<http://www.biblicalexaminer.org/JudaismOpen.html>

Our goal is to warn of specific Judaic influences in Christian service and worship, dealing with the evils of Judeo-Christianity, or Christians worshipping in the tabernacle of Satan. The following will be links to and the opening paragraph of each section.

Introduction: This Introduction contains the background of this present work, and an overview of its contents which we will divide into small parts.

A Jew?: probably the greatest area of confusion; that is, the identity of a Jew. The Jews' Religion: Galatians 1:13, 14. Messianic Judaism: A strange religion that is neither Christian nor Jewish, but is a figment of a vivid, non-Christian imagination. Yahweh: The god of the Yahwistic faith. Unholy Hands on the Holy Word: Phasing-out obsolete versions, e.g., the Douai-Rheims and King James. The Growing Prestige of Judaism: "Judaism is Zionist through and through" The Torah: Non-Jewish people are easily confused by two important words in the Jewish religion -- Torah and Talmud. The Kabbalah & U. S. Foreign Policy: The word "Kabbalah" (or Cabbalah) is an almost completely unknown word outside of those committed to the Jews' religion, Talmudic Judaism. However, the Kabbalah has for decades played and continues to play a major role in United States' foreign policy. It even now has a key part in President Trump's administration, and could lead to war. Introduction: The Day of Atonement is one of the better known Jewish Holy Days. Day of Atonement-Yom Kippur And the "Kol Nidre" (All Vows) prayer: Ignatius warns, "Do Not Accept Judaism ... The Passover: Training Young Christians in Judeo-Christianity. A New History Part I - History Changed: As we look at the history of the Ashkenazi Jews, and how they have changed history to support their various Zionist's causes, we are not generally dealing with conspiracies, though Psalms 2 certainly applies. A New History Part II - History Rewritten: When a new history is needed to support a specific goal, it is quite easy to call in the "memory merchants," the "gifted reconstructors of history," who can skillfully exchange unwanted or unflattering truth for fiction. Introduction to the Talmud: "The Talmud (with the Kabbalah) is Judaism's holiest book." The Talmud: Two key statements about the Talmud: 1) "The Talmud (with the Kabbalah) is Judaism's holiest book." 2) "The Talmud is the authoritative exposition of the Torah." We cannot overstate the importance of the Talmud to Orthodox Judaism.

Gog and Magog & The Final War: Ezekiel 38, 39: This section speaks of the world-wide adversaries of Zion, the Gospel Church, moving against it. It records, as does Isaiah xxxiv, Joel iii. 12, 14, Zechariah xiv and Rev 20, the last conflict, which ends "in a final triumph to the cause of God over the leagued hostility of the world."

Still to be developed: Zionism, Growth of Jewish wealth, The Jewish Bolsheviks takeover of centuries old Christian Russia, Nicene Fathers view and history of Judaism, &c.

Extensive Bibliography used to document the above will be posted when I get it organized.

Unless the Lord intervenes, we will be telling our children and grandchildren how we REMEMBER what it was like before the "great pandemic (plandemic) of 2020" when we lost our Bill of Rights and our Constitutional freedoms. As did David, we must pray imprecatory prayers against the enemies of the Kingdom of God. Psalms 124:8 Our help is in the name of the LORD, who made heaven and earth. (Ps 124:8)
