Revelation 13:11 And I beheld another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like a lamb, and he spake as a dragon. (China, the land of dragons?) 12 And he exerciseth all the power of the first beast before him, and causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed. 13 And he doeth great wonders, so that he maketh fire come down from heaven on the earth in the sight of men, 14 And deceiveth them that dwell on the earth by the means of those miracles which he had power to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, which had the wound by a sword, and

Revelation 13 introduces two beasts, which are obviously symbolic: they represent something. The first beast rises out of the sea, i.e., the masses of humanity, and the Lord God of heaven gives him the power to govern men and to persecute the saints. He represents all anti-Christian civil governments wherever they might be found worldwide. The goal of the second beast is to see that all men everywhere worship the first beast, which is the antichrist State. The second beast represents all anti-Christian religions: The purpose of this beast is to see that all people everywhere worship the first beast; that is, submit to the anti-Christian State. 666, is the number of man who has set himself up as god; 666 is one short of perfection, 7, showing that despite all his efforts, he is not as God. (We have given examples in the March and April 2021 Examiners: SBC's Theological Seminary & Bethany Christian Ministries. We saw that both required their followers to swear allegiance to the beast. Both had to submit to the requirements of the beast, or they would lose the support from the beast.)

The first beast is the sum of all anti-Christian civil governments from Nimrod to the present; this beast has worked to present himself as the Messiah, the saviour of mankind, the answer for the ills of mankind. He represents the secular world culture generally. The second beast works to see that all men everywhere submit to the first beast, which is the anti-Christian civil governments of the world. His goal is to expand the kingdom of darkness, and bring about Satan's world-wide dominion over all the affairs of men.

That is to say, the Humanist faith holds to the limitless possibilities of human nature to solve all of man's problems through the works of man's hands, science, medicine, (such as the gene altering drug found in the mRNA "vaccine") and whatever else might come to the vain imaginations of man.

We travel 60+ minutes to the University of Cincinnati hospital for Bettie's cancer treatment. The Lord has blessed those treatments, and there is no evidence of cancer at this point. "Plastered" all over the hospital and on their computer "screen savers" is this statement: "In science, there is hope." Humanism is based in this false-hope.

The Humanist faith, where every man his own god, believes that the world's problems can be solved when Satan's dominion is complete over the whole earth; they will give EVERYTHING to expand that dominion. On the other hand, though the biblical Christian faith teaches that the world's problems can only be solved by expanding the Kingdom of Christ over the earth, how many will give EVERYTHING to support that claim?

Few Christians have been taught nor do they understand that there is battle for the control of the nations of the world taking place between the Kingdom of God and the Kingdom of Man led by Satan.

The essence of the two beasts is found in Marxism where the few elite at the top demand total allegiance world-wide. The second beast seeks to make all churches and religious institutions praise the first beast, Marxism. Those who will "not worship the image of the beast should be killed."

China is a good example: All religious institutions must support and praise the Beast-State, or else... It is not difficult to find the terrible results that the Beast brings down on those who do not honour the State as "god walking on earth."

Resistance to the Beast-State means difficulty in buying or selling, or even death. The few at the top use every means at their disposal to see that the State survives and prospers, including starvation and even death to dissidents. It certainly is not difficult to understand that the anti-Christian State sees itself as the Messiah, the saviour of mankind, as it increasingly demands total allegiance from everyone within its grasp.

From the time Satan promised Eve that she could be as God, man's goal has been to rebel against his Creator, and be his own god. That rebellion brought about the Flood, which did not solve the natural rebellion problem. We read of the resurgence of that rebellion in Genesis 10:8 as Nimrod sought to unite all the peoples of earth in his rebellion against God. St. John identifies that spirit of rebellion against the Lord and his Christ as the antichrist. (See Nimrod, TBE January 2020.)

With the above introduction, we come to

Revelation 13:15 And he (the second beast) had power to give life unto the image of the (first beast, the State) beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed. 16 And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads: 17 And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

Vv. 15-17, in action

The following is a lengthy quote, with quotes supporting quotes. You will need to pay attention as we put the various parts together to make our point. It appears that the antichrist dream of a One World Order is being accomplished in our lifetime.

As we will see in the following articles, the “conspirators” of Psalms 2 expect to have the technology in place by 2025 which will permit the fulfillment of rebellious man’s one world dream system. Their dream is to expand Satan’s antichrist kingdom world-wide with the elite few at its head. There are several recently developed technologies which will enable man’s dream to be as God to “flourish.” Among those amazing technologies are 5G and Artificial Intelligence, i.e., AI.

Quoting from World Net Daily:

China’s social-credit system invades North America ‘There are consequences for low-scored individuals’

By Bob Unruh, 5/2/21

China expert Gordon G. Chang, a Gatestone Institute distinguished senior fellow, reports that there now are 60 surveillance cameras watching 30 tables, and their occupants, at the Haidilao Hot Pot restaurant in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada. [1]

They’re significant because the images they capture are fed directly to China, as part of the more than 600 million cameras that nation’s Communist regime has installed and operates to monitor the behavior of everyone. [2]

“Beijing will, at some point, be able to assign a social credit score to just about everyone on the planet,” Chang explains. “Yes, it is true that its officials have yet to overcome the obstacles – mainly bureaucratic – in knitting together a China-wide social credit system for individuals, but it is just a matter of time before they succeed.”

Much of the West hasn’t paid a lot of attention yet to China’s social credit scores.

They began in 2014 when China’s State Council set guidelines for the system, which was to be operational by 2020 – it’s now expected to be fully implemented by 2025.

There are feeds from some 626 million surveillance cameras and smartphone scanners and other sources that eventually will “assign to every person in China a constantly updated score based on observed behaviors. For example, criticizing Chinese ruler Xi Jinping in a social media posting would result in the lowering of an individual’s score,” Chang reported.

“There are consequences for low-scored individuals. As officials say, the purpose of the system is to ‘allow the trustworthy to roam everywhere under heaven while making it hard for the discredited to take a single step.’ People with low scores have been denied social services, mortgages, and even the right to board trains and planes. There are also ‘interconnecting repercussions for family, friends, associates, and businesses both in and outside China,’ [Ina] Mitchell, an investigative journalist and co-author with [Scott] McGregor of the upcoming The Mosaic Effect, tells Gatestone.”

And now those monitors are being activated outside China. [3]

He explained the restaurant manager (in Canada, ed.), Ryan Pan, said the cameras are there to “people track” for China’s “social credit system.”

The facility is part of a chain of nearly 1,000 such restaurants worldwide.

“Why did Beijing select Ryan Pan’s restaurant for such intensive collection of information? For starters, it is in British Columbia’s most important city for China. ‘Vancouver,’ says Mitchell, ‘is a gateway for the Chinese Communist Party into North America where they engage in pervasive foreign interference activity, mobilizing overseas United Front units to strategically lure political and business leaders using financial inducements and other incentives to promote the Party’s agenda,’” Chang wrote.

Further, that restaurant is near the facility serving a Huawei Technologies executive. (Huawei is a major producer of these spy cameras, ed.)

The move is a clear indication China wants “to keep tabs on the rest of the world.”

Previously, he said, between 2012 and 2017 that nation downloaded – secretly – data from the computers at the Beijing-donated and Chinese-built headquarters of the African Union in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia through ... Huawei servers.

And Beijing’s desire for data prompted it to give tens of billions of dollars to Huawei so that company, the world’s largest maker of telecom networking gear, is integral to 5G networks.

That fifth generation of wireless communications “makes possible the Internet of Things, which will connect virtually all the world’s devices, from cars to toasters to pacemakers,” he said. (That is, 5G, ed.)

So far, Canada has not responded to the active camera monitoring, even though the province’s Personal Information Protection Act does not allow the operation, he said.

“So far, the Haidilao Hot Pot restaurant — and China — have gotten off scot-free,” he said.

“China’s Communist Party wants to know everything that happens everywhere. So far, the Western democracies do not seem to be putting up much of a fight,” he said. (Emp. added.)

It appears that the only missing ingredient needed to totally implement the desire to be as God, and able to enforce their will on the world is the universal 5G network. 5G will allow AI to be as God over the entire world system, and able to determine what is best for everyone. Those in charge will instruct AI, and AI will carry out their instructions. There are many scientific articles on the dangers of the 5G cellular system.

Our neighbor from whom we bought our property recently purchased a new sprayer with which he sprays his fields with “Roundup.” He owns the fields all around us. I spoke with him when he sprayed the field south of us. He told how he could set the sprayer on “auto-pilot,” and it would spray the field in the most efficient pattern with no driver input. He said it was amazing to watch the wheels to redirect the machine in order to follow that pattern. He said he would have no problem with a self-driving car.

Self-driving cars are the wave of the future. 5G and AI technology will make the self-driving cars possible. 5G and AI will allow the beast to control all forms of transportation, as well as all computer-controlled equipment of every size and description.

Revelation 13:17 And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

“This system would see any form of dissent resulting in the cut off of those credits and the ability to work, eat, or even exist in society. It would not only be the end of dissent but of any semblance of real individuality.” Brandon Turbeville, whom we will quote below.

2 Timothy 3:12 Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution.

Question

What can we do? Should we go with the Amish or Mennonites who cut themselves off as much as possible from all technology?

As Christians, we realize the problem is sin and man’s fall brought with it the consuming desire to control others for his own benefit. The spirit of the antichrist cannot be conquered apart from repentance and faith in Jesus Christ, which must be a work of the Spirit through the preaching of the gospel.

[3] Social Media, Universal Basic Income, and Cashless Society: How China's Social Credit System Is Coming To America

by Brandon Turbeville

Some well-informed Americans may be aware of China's horrifying "Social Credit System" that was recently unveiled as a method of eradicating any dissent in the totalitarian state. Essentially freezing out anyone who does not conform to the state's version of the ideal citizen, the SCS is perhaps the most frightening control system being rolled out today. That is, until you consider what is coming next.

Unbeknownst to most people, there appears to be a real attempt to create a system in which all citizens are rationed their "wages" digitally each month in place of a paycheck, including the ability to gain or lose money. This system would see any form of dissent resulting in the cut off of those credits and the ability to work, eat, or even exist in society. It would not only be the end of dissent but of any semblance of real individuality. ...

The most frightening part? That system is coming HERE.

While most Americans have scarcely noticed their descent into a police state, they are quick to dismiss the idea that such a system could be implemented in the land they still perceive to be free. However, all the moving parts are in place in the United States. They only need to come together to form the Social Credit System here. ...

<https://www.theorganicprepper.com/social-credit-system-coming-to-america/>

5G and AI are required in order to tie all things together under one central command which is, obviously, in China. Instead of modern, rebellious man making his god out of gold, he is developing technology to be his god, Artificial Intelligence.

Whether the headquarters of the New World Order is in China or in the USA, it matters not to those working to bring it about.

Psalms 46:1 « To the chief Musician for the sons of Korah, A Song upon Alamoth. » God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. 2 Therefore will not we fear, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea; 3 Though the waters thereof roar and be troubled, though the mountains shake with the swelling thereof. Selah. 4 There is a river, the streams whereof shall make glad the city of God, the holy place of the tabernacles of the most High. 5 God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved: God shall help her, and that right early. 6 ¶ The heathen raged, the kingdoms were moved: he uttered his voice, the earth melted. 7 The LORD of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah. 8 Come, behold the works of the LORD, what desolations he hath made in the earth. 9 He maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth; he breaketh the bow, and cutteth the spear in sunder; he burneth the chariot in the fire. 10 Be still, and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, I will be exalted in the earth. 11 The LORD of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah.

MY GRACE IS SUFFICIENT

Standing on deck of the Caravan, a newlywed couple watched the shores of America fade into the distance. The year was 1812. They knew it could very well be the last time they would ever see their homeland. They knew that hardship lay ahead - sickness, distress, persecution, troubles, years of toil and pain - yes, they knew that a missionary's life was marked with suffering. But they also knew that the Lord who called them to this work would also give them the grace to endure it.

Adoniram and Ann Judson had only been married two weeks when they boarded a ship bound for Calcutta, India to spend their lives in missionary work. Along with several other missionaries, they formed the first team officially sent out from America. Adoniram and Ann had willingly sacrificed much for this endeavor - family, friends, and the many comforts of life at home. They began the journey with confidence and eagerness to go about the work of winning souls to Christ, whatever obstacles might lie before them.

The way was indeed marked with obstacles and trials. As God ordered events, they were directed away from India - where a mission base was already established - and ended up on a ship bound for Burma instead, a country much dreaded by other missionaries. Burma was a land sunk deep in superstition, where the people took pride in their own good deeds to outweigh all their sins. They had no interest in a Gospel where only the merit of a righteous Savior could obtain them entrance into heaven.

Separated from all their missionary friends, their arrival in Burma in July of 1813 did not receive a joyful welcome. Ann wrote, "We felt very gloomy and dejected the first night we arrived in view of our prospects." To human eyes, two helpless humans like Adoniram and Ann Judson could not make a change in the country. But through them, powerless as they might have been, Christ's power would be all the more clearly seen. That is why Ann finished her sentence with these words: "But we were enabled to lean on God, and to feel that He was able to support us under the most discouraging circumstances."

So Adoniram and Ann began to work. They studied the language, developed friendships and gained the confidence of the Burmese natives, and always took the opportunity to speak for Christ. For seven years, they did not see a single convert. During these years, they had many personal trials - illness, danger, discouragement, and even the death of their firstborn son, only eight months old. But Ann's writings are full of trust in the Lord who sustained them through these troubles. Even before these particular trials, when they had just arrived in Burma, Ann realized that her uncertain situations in the mission field were "peculiarly calculated to make me feel my dependence on Him and my constant need of the influences of the Holy Spirit." She also wrote, "Were it not for the support we derive from the Gospel of Jesus, we should be ready to sink down in despondency in view of the dark and gloomy scenes around us."

But in God's timing, they began to see the fruit of their labors, and the natives began to inquire after Christ. A small church began to grow. This brought much joy to the hearts of the Judsons, best described in Ann's own words: "When we first came, we hardly hoped that we might even see one Burman converted to Christ - but now, how great is our joy to see a little church rising up in the midst of that wilderness, consisting of thirteen converted Burmans!"

After this we come to a very interesting and sorrowful chapter of Ann's life. Not long after these words were written, Adoniram went to Ava, the Burmese capitol, with a fellow missionary named Dr. Price. The king had favor with the doctor's medical skills and Adoniram's teachings, and requested that they stay. Hopeful that this would result in greater success for the gospel, the Judsons and Dr. Price left Rangoon and moved to Ava.

However, just at that time war broke out between Burma and the British Empire. Adoniram and Dr. Price were suspected of being spies, and consequently, thrown into the "death prison." This distressed Ann, and she began to do all she could to secure their release. Every evening she walked two miles, alone, to the prison to try to see Adoniram. Sometimes she was admitted five minutes, sometimes none at all. During the day she visited governors and officials trying to at least ease their discomfort - both men were bound with five chains on the hard floor, so tightly they could not move. All Ann's thoughts were absorbed in trying to bring comfort or release to her beloved Adoniram.

One day she was called away from the prison to visit the governor and was detained for trivial reasons for some time. On returning, she found all the prisoners gone, and no one confessed to their whereabouts. Frantically she ran through Ava, trying to find information on the prisoners, and eventually discovered that they had been taken to another prison. She moved herself, her two adopted girls, her newborn baby Maria, and her Burman cook to Oung-pen-la.

It was a wretched prison, and here were Ann's greatest trials borne. Adoniram was exhausted, wounded, and sick. The prison was a large building without a roof, and the hot sun beating upon the prisoners. All Ann and her household had to live in was a small shed half-filled with grain, not too far from the prison. There she lived for six months, and came to her lowest point. One of her adopted girls contracted small pox. She inoculated the children, but baby Maria did not take it well, and became very ill. Ann herself contracted malaria. Helpless, she and her family would have died were it not for their kind Burmese cook. He faithfully attended to both her and Adoniram and their family, and by God's mercy, they were spared from cruel death.

Worse than being sick, to Ann, was the sight of her husband and baby suffering, and she being helpless to assist them. It was in such dark moments as these that she learned to rely upon God alone. In these moments she learned the value of prayer. When she could not help her loved ones, the Lord was still able, and more able than any other power on earth.

Their sufferings lasted for almost two years. In time, the British so defeated the Burmese army that the king of Burma had no choice but to surrender. The king called upon Adoniram - broken and weak from long months of suffering - to negotiate with the British, because the missionary knew both languages so well. The terms of the British included the demand that all the prisoners would be released. To the joy of the missionaries, the king surrendered, and Adoniram was free.

The Judsons removed to a quiet location. But Ann would never be the same. She had given her life for her husband's in the previous two years. The stress and toil had taken its toll. In 1826, at their peaceful home, she died, trusting as she ever had in God's will and His infinite grace. Because she endured to the end, her death only brought her to the reward that awaited her, the crown of life.

What was the result of Ann's life? Was it wasted? No, rather, her deep trials bore much fruit for the Gospel and for the cause of missions. The churches in America were startled into action by her courage and suffering. Young women like Henrietta Shuck, the wife of a missionary to China, were inspired by her example. And surely their trials strengthened the faith of the little church in Rangoon, and everywhere that Adoniram continued his missionary work after Ann's death.

Even today, Ann's life can be a help to us. We can be strengthened by her example. Maybe there is one who thinks their trial too hard to bear - but Ann's example of enduring to the end can be a blessing and encouragement to press onward. God had a purpose for her sufferings far greater than Ann could have imagined, and it was all for good.

Ann's character, once confident and enthusiastic, had become meek and lamb-like through the trials that the Lord had brought her through. Her trust and faith had grown in ways that few others experience. As she wrote before leaving America's shores, "He has my heart in His hands, and when I am called to face danger, to pass through scenes of terror and distress, He can inspire me with fortitude, and enable me to trust Him. Jesus is faithful; His promises are precious." His precious promise did prove true in Ann's life, and will also in ours: "My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness."

FINDING REST FOR YOUR SOULS

Matthew 11:26

Christ's sermon in Matthew 11 was given in the context of the multitude of Jews that was following him, v. 7.

The Jews to whom Christ spoke were loaded down with the sacrificial laws that pointed to Christ that were removed by the cross of Christ, Colossians 2:14. In addition, the Scribes and Pharisees had also loaded down the people with burdens that even they were unable to bear. That burden was the traditions of the elders as found in the Babylonian Talmud, which was very highly regarded in Christ's day.

Christ's plea was that his Jewish hearers who were still under the Old Covenant would come to him for the true freedom from those heavy burdens.

Christ's plea in Matthew 11 is much broader than just to the Jews of his day. His plea speaks to every man who is heavily laden with many burdens, burdens such as lust, guilt, false religious requirements and emotional distresses of every description.

Psalms 119:96 I have seen an end of all perfection: but thy commandment is exceeding broad.

In other words, the Command-Word of God is applicable to every man and every situation from the time of Adam until the time of the End. It is certainly a message for our day.

Our text is,

Matthew 11:26 Even so, Father: for so it seemed good in thy sight. 27 All things are delivered unto me of my Father: and no man knoweth the Son, but the Father; neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him. 28 Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. 29 Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. 30 For my yoke is easy, and my burden (i.e., load) is light.

Our Lord's sermon in Matthew 11:26-30 can only be properly understood in its context of Jeremiah 6:13-19, which we will look at shortly.

Jeremiah 6:16 Thus saith the LORD, Stand ye in the ways, and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls. But they said, We will not walk therein.

It is important that we understand that Jesus Christ quoted Jeremiah 6:16 as he spoke to the Jews who were still under the Old Covenant. Today, when we look at these words of Jesus Christ there is very little if any thought of their Old Testament context. Ignoring the Old Testament context of passages quoted in the New Testament means that New Testament doctrines can be changed at will.

We will look at the context of Jeremiah 6:16 shortly.

In both Matthew and Jeremiah, take my yoke means to willingly and gladly accept the yoke of the Command-Word of God; that is, one willingly submits to his commands and precepts. Then by God's grace, he lives the many implications of the law in every area of life and thought.

Yoke... is a symbol of subjection and servitude. The Lord invites the sinner to take his yoke upon himself, and learn of him. The sinner exchanges self-will for God's will and willingly submits to God's will as revealed in his word. God's call is to be content in whatever state the redeemed man finds himself. Unlimited and humble submission to his will is extremely important in our day of turmoil. Only humble submission to the sovereign God of scripture can result in rest for the soul: For his yoke is easy, and his burden is light.

Christ uses yoke to mean taking on the genuine Christian religion, and following its laws as found in the Law, Psalms and Prophets. (John 14:15, with Pro 7:2, &c.)

Psalms 2:2 The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the LORD, and against his anointed, saying, 3 Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us.

The natural man considers the yoke of any law, especially God's law, to be an unbearable burden. He considers God's commands a binding cord that must be broken, for God's law prevents fallen man from being his own god. For the last 150 years, self-professed Christians have allowed humanism and anarchy to be taught to their children in the State's openly anti-Christian education system in order to break the yoke of God's law from society. The results are now upon us both in the church and in society, and we wonder why we live in such a rebellious generation. Even God's people paid for that rebellion by supporting the pagan education system.

For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

On the other hand, Psalms 119 tells us that the Redeemed of God find the yoke of his law delightful, light and joyful. His commandments are not grievous to his people who have been called into the New Covenant, the Gospel Church. (Grievous... Heavy, burdensome, severe, stern, weighty):

1 John 5:2 By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and keep his commandments. 3 For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and his commandments are not grievous.

In John 13:17, 15:11, the Lord promises peace and joy for those who keep his commandments. Jacob considered 14 years' service as a day, because of his love for Rachel.

We can say with biblical certainty that those who find the commandments of the Lord God a heavy burden do not have the Spirit of God.

In 1846, Charles Bridges made this point: "Truth separated from truth becomes error." That is, when New Testament truth is separated from its Old Testament truth, the New Testament truth becomes error.

"Truth separated from truth becomes error." The various recorded accounts preserved in the Old Testament are for our instruction; they must not be ignored nor taken lightly, for it is the Old Testament that explains the doctrines the New Testament teachings of Christ and of the apostles. In John 5:39, Christ told his accusers to search the Old Testament Scriptures.

All fundamental errors and heresies in the church may be traced to our Lord's words in Matthew 22:29, Ye do err, not knowing the (Old Testament) scriptures, nor the power of God.

Partial truth leads to error.

Matthew 11:29 Take my yoke ... find rest... Corrupt theology has removed our Lord's words from their Old Testament context. Apart from the appropriate Old Testament context of New Testament passages, it is quite easy to present false teachings "in the name of the Lord," and his sheep are easily led astray.

From the time of the Fall, the universal desire of man has been to remove the yoke of God's law from himself, and there are several places in the New Testament which may appear to remove that yoke. We saw in 1 John 5 that those who desire to void the law of God are antichrist.

Christ's message in Matthew 11:26-30 is a common sermon text. Though all Scripture is given by God, and is required to fully equip the believer in his service for God, the context of Jeremiah's message in chapter 6 from which Christ quoted is seldom if ever developed. The context of rest unto your souls is Christ warning, rebuking, or even condemning of the cities of Matthew 11:20-24, Chorazin, Bethsaida and Capernaum (which was exalted unto heaven) for rejecting him.

The context of our Lord's message in Matthew 11 is Jeremiah 6.

Jeremiah 6:13 For from the least of them even unto the greatest of them every one is given to covetousness; and from the prophet even unto the priest every one dealeth falsely. 14 They have healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying, Peace, peace; when there is no peace. 15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore they shall fall among them that fall: at the time that I visit them they shall be cast down, saith the LORD. 16 Thus saith the LORD, Stand ye in the ways, and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls. But they said, We will not walk therein. 17 Also I set watchmen over you, saying, Harken to the sound of the trumpet. But they said, We will not hearken. 18 Therefore hear, ye nations, and know, O congregation, what is among them. 19 Hear, O earth: behold, I will bring evil upon this people, even the fruit of their thoughts, because they have not hearkened unto my words, nor to my law, but rejected it.

There are two things we would like to point out from this passage: first, rest for your souls. Second, the fruit of their thoughts.

The remainder of Jeremiah chapter 6 describes the evil fruit of the thoughts that his Old Covenant people would reap as God sends many evils against those who refused to “harken to the sound of the trumpet.” In their hardness of heart they refused to heed the warning to repent and obey.

Jeremiah 6:16 is part of the context of Matthew 11:26-30. We see in 11:26 that regardless of how things appear, righteous judgment tells us that all things are proceeding as it seems good in God’s sight.

In Jeremiah 6, the Tri-une God pronounces judgment against his sinful nation for its hardness of heart. The judgment would be according to the fruit of their thoughts. God tells the pagan nations to prepare for war against his apostate people, Judah. When Jesus Christ quoted Jeremiah 6, he issued the same warning. He came to his own, the Jewish nation, and called them to repentance, But they said, We will not hearken and will not walk therein.

In Matthew 11, Jesus Christ tells the multitude of Jews that it was the fruit of their fathers’ thoughts and their refusal to heed the warnings that destroyed their nation. In Matthew 11, Christ is calling his Old Covenant people, Israel, to a genuine conversion of the heart and attitude toward God, or judgment worse than the judgment of Sodom would come upon them.

Christ warned national Israel of the coming destruction if they would not change, and return to the old paths trodden by the godly saints of old. The Jewish Roman war was already “brewing” at the time of Christ. It was being encouraged by the Jewish nationalists who were urging rebellion against Rome. Jeremiah’s warning as quoted by Christ came to pass as Rome made the land desolate, a land not inhabited in 70 AD.

The land remained totally desolate for several decades as Rome sought to obliterate the memory of the city and what took place there. The Jerusalem in that area today is not the Jerusalem where Jesus walked. That city is built on top of the ruins left by Rome.

When Jesus Christ quoted Jeremiah 6:16, the Jews or Israelites to whom he spoke clearly understood its context. They understood that he was comparing them to their fathers of Jeremiah’s day who continually ignored the warnings sent to them by God. According to Hosea 13:9, God’s people under the Old Covenant knowingly and willingly committed suicide. They tore down their house with their own hands.

Follow me through Jeremiah 6:13-19:

1. V. 13, is speaking to all the inhabitants of the land. Jeremiah tells them that from the lowest to the highest of society, everyone was given to covetousness. They commonly used fraud for gain. Isaiah 56:11 tells us that they were greedy dogs which could never have enough.

2. V. 13, is speaking to the religious leaders of the land, he tells them that they all were dealing falsely, or fraudulently, with his neighbor. There was no integrity, and, in Christ’s words, they were blind leaders of the blind, as the religious leaders lead their followers into the ditch.

3. V. 14, the Geneva note says that “When the people began to fear God’s judgments, the false prophets comforted them by flatterings, showing that God would send peace and not war.”

The religious leaders were promising peace and safety when there was no peace nor safety. Both 2 Peter 2:17 and Jude 1:12 describes the religious leaders who ignore the true teachings of God’s word as clouds without water, trees without fruit and twice dead, yet “my people love to have it so.”

Some years ago, there was a song that perfectly describes the ancient as well as modern religious leaders, “Don’t worry, be happy!” Since around 1830, more than a few religious leaders have promised and continue to promise a rapture that will deliver God’s people out of God’s wrath which must come upon their sins.

They are clouds without water, trees without fruit and twice dead.

4. V. 15, though the religious leaders as well as the people were given over to wicked and shameful acts, there was no shame. Jeremiah 5:8, They were as fed horses in the morning: every one neighed after his neighbour's wife. Their hardness in sin would not let them blush with shame □they had a whore's forehead.

5. V. 16, God sent many warnings for them to repent and return to the old paths, yet they said, we will not harken. They claimed to be the children of God, but they openly and firmly refused to obey the command-word of the God whom they claimed to worship.

6. V. 17, we see in Amos 3:6 and in Jeremiah 6:1 that God sent watchmen, or prophets and preachers to sound the trumpet of alarm of the danger at hand, yet the people were not afraid. In Ezekiel 3:17-21 and 33:1-9, Ezekiel was sent to God's people as a watchman.

7. V. 18, God calls the nations of the world to witness and take warning of his severe judgment against his disobedient people, Judah. How can the nations of the world expect to escape the wrath of God, when his covenant people cannot escape that judgment?

Calvin comments: His people would not hear, so he addresses the whole earth. That is, the whole earth is responsible to God's law-word.

8. V. 19, Hear, O earth: behold, I will bring evil upon this people, even the fruit of their thoughts, because they have not hearkened unto my words, nor to my law, but rejected it.

Pay attention to the wording of this verse: it says that his covenant people rejected God's law-word in their thoughts, or minds. Their evil hearts spurned the law of God, and they were going to reap the results.

Psalms 2 tells us that the wicked spurned the law of God in their evil hearts because they find it binding and unbearable.

In Ezekiel chapter 8, Ezekiel is told to dig through the wall and he would see the wicked abominations that the elders of Israel were doing in their hearts

The problem was their hardness of hearts, not their ungodly actions. It was their hearts of stone which resulted in ungodly actions that brought God's judgment upon them. The wrath of God was against their hardened hearts that rejected the word of God. What would Ezekiel see in our thoughts and minds? How many times have we been warned by God that "godly" actions cannot be substituted for an ungodly heart?

The new covenant ushered in by the work of Christ promises to replace the heart of stone with a heart of flesh.

9. V. 19, the evil God sent against his people was the result of the fruit of their thoughts, for in their hearts they rejected the law-word of God.

That evil that came upon them was the Chaldean army. The evil that God sent against national Israel in 70 A.D. was the Roman army. The evil that God is sending against our nation today is flooding across the southern border.

There is no neutral ground, for one either loves the law of the Lord or he hates it.

Matthew 12:30 and Luke 11:23 He that is not with me is against me...

Psalms 119:97 MEM. O how love I thy law! it is my meditation all the day.

Jeremiah told the fathers that the Lord would come in terrible judgment, and cast them down if they did not heed the many warnings from God. (There are many such comings of the Lord in judgment throughout Scripture. See Deut 28:15ff.) At the end of the Jeremiah's scathing rebuke for their sin, he promises that they could find rest for your souls. That rest was conditioned upon repenting and returning to the old paths, the good way as defined by the law of the Lord.

The response to Jeremiah's call to repent was We will not walk therein, though they knew what God had promised them if they refused. They said, "We will not harken, though we are assured by God that the evil will come down upon us." (Jeremiah 6:16, 17) Jesus Christ preached the same message that Jeremiah preached. That message called for God's covenant people to find rest for their souls by returning in obedience to the Lord their God. His message also brought forward Jeremiah's warning of the results of not returning to the God of their fathers.

Though the message was addressed to his people, Israel of old, the message expands to the New Covenant People, the new Israel of God, the Gospel Church.

Christ came to his own, but his own received him not. He preached to his own nation in Matthew 11. They not only would not harken, but they killed the Messenger the same as their fathers killed the prophets of old who presented the message they did not want to hear. He offered to remove the heavy yoke and burden that was upon them, and replace it with his joy and peace.

Now we come to the heart issue, find rest for your souls

Both Jeremiah and Christ made it clear “judgment cannot be turned aside by mere sacrifice without a change of heart”—that is to say, there must be genuine conversion of the mind, will and emotions, a life-style change that comes from the heart. (Keil-Delitzsch)

The word of God applies just as much today as it did in Jeremiah’s day: rejection of God’s command-word must result in destruction. Our beloved nation that prospered so greatly as it sought to implement God’s laws is now absolutely refusing to return to those laws upon which this nation was established.

Psalms 9:17 The wicked shall be turned into hell, and all the nations that forget God.

Jeremiah 6:11, in his fury against the hard hearts that said “we will not harken,” God sent the Chaldeans against Judah. Matthew 11, in his fury against the hard hearts that said “we will not harken,” God sent the Romans against Israel. With Christ, the Old Covenant people of God were replaced with the New Covenant people of God which is the Gospel Church as he replaced the stony heart with a fleshly heart.

Both the Chaldeans and the Romans were the just reward for the fruit of their thought, because they refused to hearken unto my words, nor to my law, but rejected it.

The basic Christian warfare is over thoughts. The battle to accomplish a Christian World-Order as commanded by Jesus Christ is the battle for the thoughts of the peoples of the nations. That conquering victory for the hearts and minds is through the preaching and teaching of the entire word of God.

Matthew 28:18 And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. 19 Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: 20 Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen.

Our confidence for conquering the world for Christ is found in the promises of the new covenant:

Jeremiah 31:33 But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel; After those days, saith the LORD, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and will be their God, and they shall be my people. 32:40 And I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good; but I will put my fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me. Ezekiel 11:19 And I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within you; and I will take the stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them an heart of flesh: 36:26 A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you: and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh. 27 And I will put my spirit within you, and (I will) cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them.

Only through Christian conversion to Christ can there be rest from the heavy burdens upon the soul. Only through Christian conversion can there be any joy and peace, rest for one’s soul, and for the nations.

As Christians, we must consider the war that takes place in the thoughts. Thought-control is a never-ending battle where blessings or wrath are at stake. Throughout both Testaments, the emphasis is on the thoughts. Psalms 47:4 tells us that it is God who determines the appropriate results for the fruit of their thoughts.

The weapons of battle for the preservation of our beloved nation do not consist of the largest aircraft carrier in the world, nor a powerful laser that will blast the enemy out of sky, nor who has the most destructive force at their disposal, nor a mighty standing army with the most advanced weapons on earth. (Einstein said WW IV will be fought with sticks and stones.)

Mind Control

The battle is between Christ and the spirit of the antichrist which now seems to hold both the world and the church captive. The battle is for the control of the thoughts and intents of the heart:

2 Cor 10:3 For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh: 4 (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds;) 5 Casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ;

Pr 21:30 There is no wisdom nor understanding nor counsel against the LORD. 31 The horse is prepared against the day of battle: but safety is of the LORD. Ps 33:17 An horse is a vain thing for safety: neither shall he deliver any by his great strength.

Though armed might for self-protection is required by scripture, any victory depends on the Lord. Any other hope for victory is a sinful confidence, and forfeits the Lord's protection. Success in battle depends solely upon God's providence who alone gives the victory.

(Charlie Daniels: "God's in control, but owning a 12-gauge doesn't hurt. 'His ways are not our ways and His thoughts are not our thoughts'")

The battle for our nation and for the nations of the world is a battle for the hearts and minds, the thoughts and intents of the hearts of the nations. We are assured by God himself that the battle will be won through the preaching and teaching of the whole counsel of God.

Warning for US: for several decades now, godly preachers have proclaimed the need to return to the obedient paths of the fathers. But the people have said, even the self-professed Christians, We will not walk therein. The result is that God has prepared, and has raised up pagans such as BLM, Antifa, China, Russia, and various nations to war against us. In his fury against a nation that has turned its back on any similitude of godliness, he is now sending HIS army from the south to invade us with the intent to totally destroy our once great Christian foundation.

It pains me to even consider this: God is the one who has told this administration to not only allow, but to finance the army that is flooding across the southern border.

Proverbs 21:1 The king's heart is in the hand of the LORD, as the rivers of water: he turneth it whithersoever he will.

Jesus Christ has all power in heaven and earth, so he must be the one Who is turning the hearts of the worldly powers against his kingdom on earth; he is the one giving power to the beast to blaspheme him in Revelation 13.

(Do we not find it interesting that the North gathered all its strength together to invade the South, and put down the Army of the South? On the other hand, the North is doing all it can to encourage this modern army from the South. This is a true saying, "Follow the money.")

We are no doubt seeing judicial blindness taking place against those who have turned against God, both in the church and out of the church. They have said in their heart, we will not hearken to the command word of God, and God is turning all the nations that forget him into hell.

History, both "secular" and Biblical, proves that it is sure suicide to ignore the command-word of God. Ignorance of the law cannot be an excuse, for it is readily available to all men.

Sadly, it has been the "powers that be" in the highest echelons of this nation that have been and are determined to destroy this nation.

Comment: a McDonald's franchise holder offered $50 to anyone who would just come in for an interview. He had no takers, and he blamed the federal free money program identified as enhanced unemployment benefits because of the pandemic, for it made unemployment income greater than what they could earn at the store. Thus, the support of the open borders to bring in those who will work.

The goal of the wicked has been to destroy the Christian roots of this nation from the time it was founded. They have found a means here through the planned-demic to accomplish their goal. They pay Americans not to go to work and import many thousands of foreigners to do that work.

The battle is for the hearts and minds of the nations. Ephesians 4:11-14, tells us that the training of the saints for that warfare is the responsibility of God's men in the pulpits of America.

2 Kings 11:10 And to the captains over hundreds did the priest give king David's spears and shields, that were in the temple of the LORD.

The house of the Lord contain the armory, and the pastors/teachers are responsible for providing the weapons of our warfare which equip God's people to attack the gates of hell.

An effective army for the cause of Christ must have thorough instruction concerning God's rules of engagement. They need to know and practice the many practical applications of the law-word of God.

Our command is to go forth with the gospel, teach and convert the nations to Christ. The basic war for a Christian Culture worldwide must be for the mind. The war is for the thoughts and intents of the heart of the peoples of those nations. (Php 2:5 Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus: Ephesians chapter 6)

Sound familiar? Is it any wonder that Jeremiah is known as the "Weeping Prophet" as he saw the coming destruction of his beloved nation? We need "Weeping Prophets" today who will weep over the destruction of the once Christian Western Civilization. The Reformation lasted 500 years. How long will the Lord allow the present descent into darkness last before another Godly reformation?

Jesus Christ's sermon in Matthew 11 is to the sinner throughout all generations to repent and turn to Christ. The call is more than simply bring their actions into conformity to his words and law. Rather, it was a call to convert the thoughts and intents of the heart, and find God's rest for your souls. It was the unlawful, secret things of the heart that caused God to move against his people, and place stumblingblocks before them. And because of the uncontrolled heart, they fell and destroyed themselves. (Ez 8:8, 12:5-12, Ecc 12:14, Ho 13:9.)

Christ brought the entire thought of Jeremiah 6 forward when he offered rest for your souls in Matthew 11. The rest Christ promised in Matthew 11 is available only through repentance and faith in his finished work. Ezekiel promised that there would be a new covenant of a new heart where one would love the command-word of God, and find genuine rest and peace.

Isaiah 11:10 And in that day there shall be a root of Jesse, which shall stand for an ensign of the people; to it shall the Gentiles seek: and his rest shall be glorious.

Habakkuk 2:14 For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea.

The promise of Psalms 110:1 shall be fulfilled through the preaching of the entire counsel of the word of God. (The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool.)

1 Corinthians 15:24 Then cometh the end, when he shall have delivered up the kingdom to God, even the Father; when he shall have put down all rule and all authority and power. 25 For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.

What a glorious day lies ahead for those who have found the rest offered by Christ in Matthew 11.

Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. 29 Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. 30 For my yoke is easy, and my burden (i.e., load) is light.

There is so much more to God's requirements upon his people than just the basic "Ten Words." Western Civilization is passing into history as God's people reap the fruit of their thoughts. However, God will not allow anarchy to prevail; he will raise up a tyrannical government to enforce an orderly society.

Ezekiel 36:22 Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD; I do not this for your sakes, O house of Israel, but for mine holy name's sake, which ye have profaned among the heathen, whither ye went. 23 And I will sanctify my great name, which was profaned among the heathen, which ye have profaned in the midst of them; and the heathen shall know that I am the LORD, saith the Lord GOD, when I shall be sanctified in you before their eyes. 24 For I will take you from among the heathen, and gather you out of all countries, and will bring you into your own land. 25 Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean: from all your filthiness, and from all your idols, will I cleanse you. 26 A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you: and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh. 27 And I will put my spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them. 28 And ye shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers; and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

That new covenant is the Lord Jesus Christ. (Isa 42:6, 49:8) The work of the Spirit produces repentance and faith – a genuine heart conversion, which loves the Lord's yoke, his word and his law.

Hebrews 10:16 This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord, I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them; 17 And their sins and iniquities will I remember no more. (He 8:8-10)

Let me close this lengthy tome with this wonderful poem by Horatius Bonar, 1843, as found in the blue Trinity hymnal, p. 396:

1) I was a wandering sheep, I did not love the fold; I did not love my Shepherd's voice, I would not be controlled. I was a wayward child, I did not love my home; I did not love my Father's voice, I loved afar to roam.

2) The Shepherd sought His sheep, The Father sought His child; They followed me o'er vale and hill, O'er deserts waste and wild; They found me nigh to death, Famished and faint and lone; They bound me with the bands of love, They saved the wand'ring one.

3) They spoke in tender love, They raised my drooping head, They gently closed my bleeding wounds, My fainting soul they fed; They washed my filth away, They made me clean and fair; They brought me to my home in peace, The long sought wanderer.

4) Jesus my Shepherd is: 'Twas He that loved my soul; 'Twas He that washed me in His blood, 'Twas He that made me whole. 'Twas He that sought the lost, That found the wand'ring sheep, 'Twas He that brought me to the fold, 'Tis He that still doth keep.

5) I was a wand'ring sheep, I would not be controlled; But now I love my Shepherd's voice, I love, I love the fold. I was a wayward child, I once preferred to roam; But now I love my Father's voice, I love, I love his home.

Those who have found the rest for their souls, Matthew 11:29/Jeremiah 6:16, can sing Bonar's wonderful poem with genuine joy unspeakable and real thanksgiving regardless of the surrounding circumstances and situations.

WHY I LOVE MOM!

Dr. Tom Wallace

Mom and Dad were watching TV. Mom said, "I think I'll go to bed." She went to the kitchen to make sandwiches for tomorrow's lunches. Took meat out of the freezer for tomorrow's supper, checked the cereal box levels, filled the sugar container, put spoons and bowls on the table, and started the coffee for the next morning!

She then put some clothes in the dryer, put a load into the wash, ironed a shirt, and secured a loose button. She picked up the game pieces left on the table and put away the telephone book.

She watered the plants, emptied a wastebasket. She yawned and headed for the bedroom. She stopped by the desk, wrote a note to the teacher, counted out some cash for the field trip, and pulled a textbook out from under the chair. She signed a birthday card, addressed and stamped the envelope, and wrote a quick note for the grocery store. She put both near her purse.

Mom then washed her face, put on her night solution and age-fighting moisturizer, brushed her teeth, and filed her nails.

Dad called out and said, "I thought you were going to bed."

"I'm on my way," she said. She put water into the dog's dish and put the cat outside, then made sure the doors were locked. She looked in on the kids, hung up a shirt, threw some dirty socks in the hamper.

In her own room, she set her alarm, laid out clothing for the next day, straightened up the shoe rack. She added three things to her 6 most important things to-do list. She said her prayers. About that time, Dad turned off the TV and announced, "I'm going to bed." And he did...without another thought.

GLOBAL GENOCIDE AGAINST HUMANITY HAS STARTED

Why the all-out push to get this "vaccine" shot into every person on earth? The shot is being pushed by every antichrist entity on earth. The "jab" is generally resisted by those who hold a "conservative" worldview. Take note of those involved in the development of the non-vaccine, and those who are trying to force it on everyone. The "enforcers" are those who hate what is left of the WASP America and the radical depopulation crowd, the "Bill Gates" of the world. Gates has been very vocal about his promotion of depopulation. (He hates the America that made him super-rich, and he is working to destroy it!) Just his involvement in this vaccine effort should raise great doubts about the motives behind vaxxing everyone. This writer sees no reason to doubt the following articles.

Do the research, and let true science speak

** It's 'entirely possible' vaccine campaigns 'will be used for massive-scale depopulation': Former Pfizer VP

'PLEASE warn every person not to go near top up vaccines. There is absolutely no need to them...If someone wished to harm or kill a significant proportion of the world's population over the next few years, the systems being put in place right now will enable it. It's my considered view that it is entirely possible that this will be used for massive-scale depopulation', Dr Mike Yeadon told the American Frontline Doctors

March 29, 2020 (America's Frontline Doctors) – Dr. Michael Yeadon, a former Vice President and Chief Science Officer for Pfizer, spoke with great urgency to America's Frontline Doctors (AFLDS) late last week warning that the drive to inject the largest possible portion of the population with experimental COVID-19 vaccines is “madness,” involves “evil,” includes “crimes against humanity,” and may have the intention of “massive-scale depopulation.”

Yeadon’s comments are also made in the broader context of a sharp debate over theories offered by Geert Vanden Bossche, a vaccine expert associated with the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, who, with the appearance of a “whistleblower” has also warned of a “global catastrophe without equal” due to the way these vaccines have been utilized.

In short, Vanden Bossche fears these experimental vaccines, which do not prevent infection or transmission of the virus, will foster the development of “dangerous variants” that will be far more lethal to the unvaccinated and vaccinated alike, who, for different reasons, will not have sufficient immunity to protect them. ...

PFIZER’S OWN DOCUMENTS STATE BOTH INHALATION AND SKIN CONTACT WILL TRANSMIT WHATEVER IS IN THE VAX FROM THE VACCINATED TO THE UNVACCINATED Here is what just this small portion of this Pfizer document is saying:

1. If a man who was not vaccinated touches a vaccinated woman, or breathes any of the air she breathes, (in other words, walks by her in the office) and he then has sex with his wife, his wife can have an adverse event and she should avoid having children.

2. If a woman who was never vaccinated gets exposed to a woman who was vaccinated, she can:

- A: miscarry,
- B: spontaneously abort,
- C. poison a baby via her breast milk
- D: Have babies that have cognitive difficulties.

This is universal, and very bad.

When will these Experimental “COVID-Vaccines” become APPROVED?

Read the label carefully: Pfizer-BioNTech vaccine vial with the label stating: “For use under Emergency Use Authorization”

The mainstream media (radio, TV, newspapers) are full of reports of the successes of COVID-19 “vaccines” in reducing the number of new “cases” here and in many other jurisdictions.

However, to this date none of those “mRNA-type vaccines” (like from Pfizer-BioNTech, Moderna, Novavax) and, perhaps, other manufacturers/providers) have received an unequivocal “stamp of approval” by any government entity (e.g., the U.S. Centers for Disease Control [CDC] and U.S. Food and Drug Administration [FDA]), or by Canada, or by Europe’s EMA ... (“They” would not give such emergency authorization to HQ, even though it had been safely used for about 100 years, ed.)

** COVID Shot Killing Large Numbers, Warns Top COVID Doctor Peter McCullough

In this interview with The New American magazine Senior Editor Alex Newman, the internationally renowned Dr. Peter McCullough—the doctor with the most citations in the National Library of Medicine on these topics—warned that the COVID shot was already causing thousands of deaths and tens of thousands of hospitalizations that have been recorded. And that’s just the tip of the iceberg, he warned. In normal circumstances, 50 deaths reported to VAERS would result in a drug being taken off market immediately. In the case of the COVID shots, thousands have already been reported, and yet the mass vaccination programs continue to be pushed. Dr. McCullough, a professor of medicine who developed a globally acclaimed and highly successful COVID treatment protocol, also emphasized that there have been many unnecessary deaths as a result of policy decisions made at various levels of government.

COVID MURDERS

‘I recorded them murdering patients’: COVID nurse goes public with shocker

‘It was something I’ve never seen before’

By Erin Maria Olzewski

A nurse who responded during America’s 2020 fight against COVID-19, traveling from Florida to New York to help in one of the hospitals in that pandemic-struck city, reports the health care system was about as bad as the pandemic itself.

“I recorded them murdering patients. I recorded just the complete and absolute disregard for human life,” Erin Maria Olzewski said during an interview with LifeSiteNews.

She previously has gotten attention for her reports of “fraud, negligence, and greed” in the system that “led to unnecessary deaths” during the nation’s war against the virus that apparently was unleashed in China and since has spread around the globe, killing millions.

She sat down with LifeSiteNews during a recent Health & Freedom Conference. The sold-out 4,000-person event was held at Rhema Bible College.

She lives in the Tampa, Florida, area and volunteered to work temporarily as a nurse in New York because COVID-19 patients were just not that much of a burden in Florida.

She was assigned to Elmhurst, which she called the epicenter of the epicenter.

“The very first day [at Elmhurst] I was shocked. It was something I’ve never seen before. Patients were alone in the rooms on ventilators [with] no family allowed in [to advocate for them]. People were just dying from gross negligence, medical malpractice, [and] mismanagement,” she said.

Olzewski said patients who repeatedly tested negative for the virus were being labeled as “COVID confirmed” in their medical charts, and that triggered a higher level of compensation from the government.

She told LifeSiteNews those “perverse incentives” from the Department of Health and Human Services provided $13,000 for each COVID patient, or $39,000 if they were put on a ventilator.

And she explained the wild variances in treatment.

“[In Florida] we treated our patients with hydroxychloroquine, zinc ... sent them home and they were fine,” she said. In New York, “they were banning alternative treatments like hydroxychloroquine. The only thing they could do was to put people on ventilators.”

She explained the circumstances that developed – the incentive to admit patients, classify them as COVID positive and then put them on ventilators, with families banned from attendance on their loved ones.

It was “the perfect storm, and people took advantage of it,” she said.

Her concerns first had been brought to light in a viral video called “Perspectives on the Pandemic: The (Undercover) Epicenter Nurse.”

She told LifeSiteNews that when she first arrived at Elmhurst Hospital she had nothing to do for days, learning that other nurses had been there for three weeks “getting paid $10,000 a week” without an assignment.

“If they needed nurses so badly, why are you bringing me here if there’s nurses sitting around?” she wondered. It was her first “red flag” that what was being reported on the situation was not actually what was happening.

Shortly later, she contacted an attorney in New York, secured a “pair of spyglasses” and began to document what she saw.

“I recorded them murdering patients. I recorded just the complete and absolute disregard for human life,” she said.

She described the lockdowns as “completely uncalled for” because “People stayed home and got even more sick, so that caused even more deaths.”

Many such decisions were made based on New York’s results, she said, “which now we know were lies.”

In fact, thousands died in the state’s nursing homes after Gov. Andrew Cuomo’s orders that the facilities accept COVID-19 positive cases into their populations of elderly and vulnerable people.

LifeSiteNews reported, “New York state nursing home deaths for the period topped 15,000, and following Cuomo’s cover-up of these figures, there have been many calls for his resignation even from members of his own Democratic party.”

The lockdowns, she said, “are causing a lot more harm” than the virus, because of the related “emotional issues, depression, suicide, just the mal-health of everybody who is living in fear itself. It’s just no way to live. It’s un-American to take away freedoms based on a false narrative.”

She said, “No one is focusing on preventative health and what you can do. Quercetin is a natural alternative to hydroxychloroquine, you can get over-the-counter, take it with zinc, vitamin C, get outside, [and get] good exercise. Get healthy, [and] drink water.

“Be brave. Be bold. And step outside of your comfort zone. If you see something say something and think about future generations to come. If you don’t fight right now, then who’s going to do it?”

NO COMPROMISE

Chip Gains

Maybe it sounds morbid, but I’ve always been fascinated by obituaries. A whole life summed up in a couple of paragraphs. The thing is, there’s no way to capture everything about a person. So you only get the stuff that simply can’t be left out. What and who they lived for. I like to think that, if you were to put a piece of paper in front of me today, I could write out the few lines that will tell the story of my life. Even if just to challenge myself to say, You watch. I may get a lot wrong, but I’m going to get the most important things right.

When I look out across the whole landscape of my little corner of the world, there are plenty of places where I fall short. I’m known to be easily distracted, for one thing. In general, me and time have this way of losing track of one another. And sometimes, I can let some of the commitments I’ve made slip through my hands.

But there are other commitments—the big ones—that I hold on to with everything I’ve got. Honoring Jo, being a good dad, my faith, trying to do what’s right even when it’s not easy, building something that helps other people. Those are commitments I’ve made that I won’t compromise. My nonnegotiables. No matter how much the details and circumstances of my life may change, and no matter what storms come my way, you watch: I’m going to get those right.

Want to know the truth? It’s not easy. It’s not perfect either. But then again, nothing worthwhile ever is.

In the middle of the grind we can become distracted by all the noise., by status, by what kind of car we’re driving or getting our kids onto the right sports teams or who said what. These are all small things, but it’s death by a thousand paper cuts to your sense of purpose. It’s different for everyone, and we’re all susceptible to losing sight of what matters most. Especially in a world that’s constantly fighting for our attention. That’s the real battle, the one that goes on inside of our hearts every single day.

When I start to feel the pressure of a world that is trying to sway or dictate my behavior to make one of my nonnegotiables negotiable, I go back to the list of things in my life that are an unwavering part of who I am. It took me a while, but do this enough times and you start to realize the importance of safeguarding what matters to you most.

’Cause I’ve seen the way it plays out. People who are willing to negotiate everything can end up standing for nothing. People who hold fast to their nonnegotiables, on the other hand, erase the space between who they are and who they want to be. And when it comes to their obituaries, there’s no question about what it will say.

Increasing attack on God’s creation

‘I WISH I COULD GO BACK’:

Girl voices heart-wrenching trans testimony

A victim of contemporary society’s transgender agenda – which promotes the concept that individuals can change from boy to girl, or girl to boy – has posted online a heart-wrenching testimony.

Against the socially and politically correct movement.

“Today is 5 years since my double mastectomy,” she writes. “I didn’t think it would hit me this hard but it’s really tough to deal with. My scars are so large and I want to crawl out of my skin.”

She is outraged at a system that encouraged her to make life-altering decisions “and lied to her so she would adopt the depraved lifestyle of delusion,” according to a report at Big League Politics.

“I can’t believe I was allowed as a child to have this procedure. No one could have prepared me for the reality of it. I was promised sunshine and rainbows. Happiness. All my sadness and gender dysphoria would go away. Of course a kid who as miserable would take that immediately.”

The report said, “A mutilated girl’s lament is going viral as she regrets her gender transition and is questioning a system that allowed her to make such a ghastly and gruesome mistake. ... She will live the rest of her days in regret after being enabled by a wicked society that puts Sodom and Gomorrah to shame.”

The report explained that by now there are “hundreds” of transgender individuals seeking to return to their birth sex.

In Britain, there is a charity called The Detransition Advocacy Network to help, offering support to those who want to “detransition.”

The founder, Charlie Evans, 28, said in an interview with Sky News, “I’m in communication with 19 and 20-year-olds who have had full gender reassignment surgery who wish they hadn’t, and their dysphoria hasn’t been relieved, they don’t feel better for it. ... They don’t know what their options are now.”

The transgender agenda activists are fighting the movement aggressively.

In Britain, a psychotherapist was banned by his university from studying cases of people who have surgery to reverse gender reassignment.

James Caspian, 61, a counselor with 10 years of experience in therapy for transgender individuals, is taking his case to the European Court of Human Rights

The dispute with Bath Spa University began in 2017. Represented by the Christian Legal Center, Caspian argues his freedom to pursue legitimate academic research has been breached and that he was targeted with discrimination.

“I have been faced with no alternative but to take this case to Europe. Too much is at stake for academic freedom and for hundreds, if not thousands, of young people who are saying that they are being harmed and often silenced by a rigid view that has become a kind of transgender ideology and permits no discussion,” Caspian said in a statement released by his lawyers.

“My preliminary research had revealed a growing controversial schism in transgender politics and impatient experiences which greatly concerned me and confirmed the need for this research. Some of the people I spoke to said they were too traumatized to speak about their experiences, which proved it was even more important to research the issue, not less.”

The Western Journal also has documented cases of regret.

It profiled a new documentary promoting transgenderism, and the Journal’s Caleb Shumate noted his own anger at the continual push to normalize such procedures.

The children – transgender – featured in the documentary were ages 4, 7, 12 and 15.

“Three of the children are far too young even to begin to think about sex or what gender they are. I am a libertarian, and with that being said, I believe that a consenting adult should be able to do whatever he or she chooses with their own body,” he wrote.

“Children, on the other hand, do not have fully developed brains and are not capable of making such a life-altering decision. I do not understand how anyone on the political left could think that having children live as the opposite gender and brainwashing them to believe they are anything besides what they were born isn’t child abuse!”

James Dobson, the founder of the James Dobson Family Institute and the host of the “Family Talk” radio program, only a short time before the 2020 election called out Joe Biden for his “lunacy” regarding transgenderism.

Biden had endorsed the idea of a young boy becoming a young girl.

“Where is the outrage in response to this lunacy? Joe Biden appears to be under the very mistaken impression that teaching our children the truth about biological reality constitutes discrimination,” he wrote on his website. “He couldn’t be more wrong, and his distorted view is equally alarming. Indeed, world-renowned Swedish psychiatrist Dr. Christopher Gillberg has said that pediatric transition is ‘possibly one of the greatest scandals in medical history.’”

Dobson said that leading children “down a path toward social and medical ‘transition’ is not compassionate—it’s an act of cruelty! “

“Puberty blockers are administered to pre-pubescent children to prevent them from experiencing puberty,” he said. “If a child doesn’t go through this natural stage of development, he or she will likely be sterile for life, a medical fact that many gender clinics expressly admit. This evil practice must be stopped!”

Dobson said “experimenting on our children doesn’t help them—it harms them for a lifetime.”

“And contrary to Joe Biden’s claims, teaching kids the differences between boys and girls is not restrictive; it’s reality. There is a portion of our society that wants to eliminate—or deny—any differences between men and women. This is wrong! We were made in God’s own image—male and female (Genesis 1:27). We should celebrate—not deny—these differences. Men and women each contribute immeasurably to the human race, to marriage, to family and to culture. Why would we deny these realities?”

Since being elected, Biden has taken multiple executive actions to promote transgenderism, including orders that boys who say they are girls can use the girls’ showers in schools and such.

Walter Heyer, a man who lived eight years as a woman, has reversed course in his life.

“My grandmother dressed me as a girl when I was 4, 5, and 6 years old,” Heyer wrote last year. “I was far too young to comprehend the long-term consequences of being encouraged to cross-dress at such a young age, much less fight back. In my child’s mind, it felt good to be the center of her attention. Now I call what grandma did to me ‘child abuse’ because her grooming of me as a female negatively affected my entire life.

“In adulthood, I was diagnosed with gender dysphoria and underwent unnecessary cross-gender hormone therapy and surgical gender change. I lived eight years as a woman and tried my best to make it work, but after surgery I still had gender dysphoria. Even worse, I was suicidal. Before giving me hormones and surgery, my medical providers should have helped me explore the possible psychological roots of my desire to escape into a female persona, but none did.”

In England, Kiera Bell is suing the U.K. National Health Service for allowing her to be given life-altering hormone treatments as a child.

“I should have been told to wait and not affirmed in my gender identity I was claiming to have and given intensive therapy basically to make sure that I was on the right track for things and investigate the feelings I was having to figure out how I got to that stage,” Bell said.

PRAYER, “CONVERSION THERAPY” ILLEGAL?

Praying to God could be made a crime, lawmakers threatened with legal action

‘A ban on spiritual guidance and prayer would be tyrannical and unworkable’

Coppel warned that prayer, evangelism, church membership, baptism and communion could all breach a broad conversion-therapy law like the one recently passed in Victoria, Australia.

Churches that follow the Bible’s teaching on gender and sexuality were targeted recently in a debate in the British Parliament over legislation that would ban so-called “conversion therapy.”

AMERICA’S CULTURAL REVOLUTION

In its own way, the United States of America is suffering the equivalent of Mao’s Cultural Revolution of the 1960s. Ironically, because the Constitution should be proof against such ambitious control freaks. Using fear of disease and global warming.

With Mao's nightmare, every decision was made at the top and mobs of radicals turned all of society upside down. The stated goal was to preserve Chinese communism by purging remnants of capitalism as well as other suddenly undesirable traditions. The result was massive hardship and famine as well as political massacres. Estimates are up to 20 million deaths. ...

A PERSONAL WORD

Bettie is recovering well from her chemo treatments. She's regaining her strength, but is still experiencing some of the "chemo brain" which interferes with the memory. She continues to take the HER 2 treatment, and must do so for several more months. That treatment is plant-based, and has no side effects. Bettie's youngest daughter and her husband sold their cabin rental business, and with their 12 children moved to Iowa. Her husband, at the urging of his father who is in the real estate business in Texas, has entered into the real estate business in Iowa. My daughter's husband, who works for Duluth trading company, was transferred to Nashville Tennessee with their three children. We still have one daughter and their two children in the area, about an hour from us.

The Lord placed us in the midst of a farming community where the family has been in the area for over 100 years. There are many brothers and sisters and cousins around us. Obviously, there is a spirit of helpfulness toward one another, and we are beneficiaries of that spirit. We also benefit from a Christian family with several young men who are willing to help as needed.

We are getting old, and rejoice in the Lord's providential goodness to us.

CIVIL LIBERTY

Greetings in the name above all others, the Lord Jesus Christ. General D. H. Hill writing just after the war in The Land We Love, Vol. 1 noted:

What is civil liberty? It may and does arise from virtue and intelligence; but it is a condition and state wholly artificial. It is an exercise of power of the strong over the weak and ignorant for the protection of society against vice and crime, and for the advancement of the general welfare. "Upon no other ground than for the general good and safety, is man justified in taking control of the liberty, the property, or the life of his fellow man." But the right of civilization to protect itself against the brutalities of savage life is not disputed, and if it can be shown satisfactorily that slavery has promoted civilization, that crime is prevented and the good of society secured, then it follows as a sequence beyond contradiction that it's the best for all parties concerned.

DESTROYED FROM WITHIN

Defilement of persons and nations comes from within, and we have this from a good source. What source? The Son of God, the Lord Jesus Christ, explained, "That which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man." Jesus said that "For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness: All these evil things come from within, and defile the man" (Mark 7:20-23). They also defile the nation of which those defiled men are citizens. The proper civil ruler is not a terror to good works but to evil (Rom. 13:3). Thomas Macaulay the British historian wrote in the 1800s about America:

[Y]our republic will be fearfully plundered and laid waste by barbarians in the Twentieth Century as the Roman Empire was in the Fifth, with this difference: that the Huns and Vandals who ravaged the Roman Empire came from without and your Huns and Vandals will have been engendered within your own country, by your own institutions.

Wow! What a perceptive depiction. Some seem to think that God cannot do without America and that in some way He is forced to keep her going even though she is now apostate, but one just needs to look history in the face and realize that He did without America for thousands of years. How can a people who blatantly violate the moral code of God think that they are exempt from the catastrophic results of such a violation? Our destruction is trained from within the homes and centers of education. It has noted that our enemies:

We have bred ... in our families and trained them in our classrooms. They inhabit our legislatures, our courts, our film studios, and our churches. Most of them are attractive and pleasant; their ideas are persuasive and subtle. Yet these men and women threaten our most cherished institutions and our very character as a people. [Charles Colson with Ellen Santilli Vaughn, Against the Night, 23-24].

What word aptly describes one who rules without law or constitution and seeks to usurp the authority of God? You are correct, it is the word “tyrant.” God’s Word insists that any ruler who rules in contempt of God’s moral law is a tyrant. “Tyranny thus begins as rule without God and ends as death without God” [R. J. Rushdoony]. Consider the following sober remark:

This principle, that a whole nation has a right to do whatever it pleases, cannot in any sense whatever be admitted as true. The eternal and immutable laws of justice and morality are paramount to all human legislation. The violations of those laws is certainly within the power of a nation, but it is not among the rights of nations. [John Quincy Adams]

Many of the Founding Fathers warned against an immoral citizenry. These founders were, generally speaking, wise and they believed in a republic, not a democracy. Why? They believed a democracy was a prelude to dictatorship. John Adams asserted:

Democracy will soon degenerate into an anarchy, such an anarchy that every man will do what is right in his own eyes and no man’s life or property or reputation or liberty will be secure.

President George Washington, in his final public speech on September 17, 1796, asserted:

Of all the dispositions and habits which lead to political prosperity, religion, and morality are indispensable supports. In vain would that man claim the tribute of patriotism who should labor to subvert these great pillars of human happiness, these finest props of the duties of men and citizens.

The use of the word “religion” in early America had reference to “Christianity.” Political prosperity is dependent on a vital Christian faith and moral behavior, the great pillars.

Preachers warned against moral degradation and its insipient results. Rev. William Lynn in a sermon dealt with Christianity in relation to government on May 9, 1798 and he reminded the new citizenry whom he addressed in the pulpit and in the printed version of his sermon, “No army need invade, if licentious principles abound. These will do the fatal business, and blast by an untimely death, the American Republic, the last and noblest work of God.” He was warning about what Jesus was saying, “All these evil things come from within, and defile the man.”

Patrick Henry declared, “It is when a people forget God, that tyrants forge their chains.” Henry was a far-seeing man who loved God and feared for his offspring through the generations and the future of the nation.

Thomas Jefferson warned from a political perspective:

To preserve our independence, we must not let our rulers load us with perpetual debt. We must make our choice between economy and liberty, or profusion and servitude. If we can prevent the government from wasting the labors of the people under the pretense of caring for them, they will be happy.

Jefferson, also in his first inaugural address in 1801, defined the essence of good government as a wise and frugal government, which shall restrain men from injuring one another, shall leave them otherwise free to regulate their own pursuits of industry and improvement, and shall not take from the mouth of labor the bread it has earned.

R. L. Dabney was correct when he declared, “Our fathers valued liberty, but the liberty for which they contended was each person’s privilege to do those things and those only to which God’s law and Providence gave him a moral right.” Dabney referred to the illegitimate bullying of those in government or elsewhere who have usurped an authority they do not possess which is a form of “moral malaria.” D. H. Hill writing in The Land We Love, Vol. 1, page 1 insisted:

They who venerate the traditions of the past will respect the laws of the present, and they whose hearts go out toward those of their own blood and tongue are the better prepared thereby to exercise benevolence toward all mankind. He who does not love his own family better than all the countries on earth, is a monster utterly unworthy of trust and confidence.

When did tyranny take over in America? But first, what is tyranny? Tyranny before God is the usurpation of an authority that one does not legitimately have from God. Tyranny unleashes monsters over which it ultimately loses control. When there is a monopoly of rule the people under it become slaves and live in misery. “[T]yranny in form is the first step towards tyranny in substance” and there is a false belief “reposed on the argument ‘that our good theoretical system of government is a sufficient security against actual tyranny’” [John Taylor, 1822]. This concept has proven to be false for we have political tyranny now. Taylor astutely observed, “Tyranny is wonderfully ingenious in the art of inventing specious phrases to spread over nefarious designs.” He also succinctly noted a pattern relative to tyrannical government:

As the remedy for over-grown power, constantly proposed, is more power to suppress the disorders it produces; so the remedy for exclusive privileges, as constantly proposed, is more exclusive privileges, under pretense of removing the oppressions they have caused.

(Comment: Disorder is created by tyrannical powers, e.g., the anarchists are paid to riot, so they can increase power to remove the disorder they created. Hence, the tyrants refuse to let the police powers work to control the disorder, ed.)

This is the modus operandi of our present governmental situation. But when did tyranny first raise its destructive head? Edward O. Guerrant wrote in his diary on Saturday the 4th of July 1863:

4th July 1776. Freedom’s Birth Day, on this side of the waters of the Great Sea! Died on 4th March 1861—aged 85 years! Left one heir and glorious offspring,—Dixie! Clothed in garments dyed in blood that youthful Child of Freedom (C.S.A.) stands today in proud and lofty defiance of the Tyrants tremendous power. David-like she hath slain Goliath! This is the anniversary of her mother’s birth, a day made memorable by a great and gallant people, and its memories disgraced by a degenerate offspring. We will cling with grateful veneration to its hallowed recollections, and revive its spirit in our patriotic actions.

You are saying, this did not come to pass, and the Southern Republic failed but in the light of history. So did the Northern Republic end in the removal of the safeguards of the Founding Fathers by the unconstitutional behavior of Lincoln and his cohorts. Just take a look at what passes for government now—centralized despotism which respects neither God nor man and crushes all semblance of free speech.

Remember Jesus said that “For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, for-nications, murders, thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness: All these evil things come from within, and defile the man” (Mark 7:20-23). “The source from which these rivers of pollution proceed is the natural heart of man. Sin is not a splash of mud upon man’s exterior, it is a filth generated within himself” [C. H. Spurgeon]. Mankind and his government corrupt from within was the perfect observation of the only perfect Man Christ Jesus. Man by nature is depraved and is in a moral death spiral apart from the saving work or providential act of the Lord. W. Hendriksen noted, “Real defilement is moral and spiritual, not physical.” “As a man thinketh in his heart so is he” (Prov. 23:7). Oh, the evil heart of unbelief fathers many moral monsters and insures bondage. Only redemption in Christ and the regeneration of the Holy Spirit can change the flow of defilement from man morally. Man must be born again, or he cannot see the kingdom of God and he cannot be transformed to be a part of the kingdom of God’s dear Son.

The late James Montgomery Boice quoted Peter Berger of Rutgers University and there is no wokeness in this assessment:

If there is going to be a renaissance of religion, its bearers will not be people who have been falling all over each other to be “relevant to modern men.” ... Strong eruptions of religious faith have always been marked by the appearance of people with firm, unapologetic, often uncompromising convictions—that is, by types that are the very opposite from those presently engaged in the various “relevance” operations. Put simply: Ages of faith are not marked by “dialogue” but by proclamation.... I would affirm that the concern for the institutional structures of the Church will be vain unless there is also a New conviction and a new authority in the Christian community. [Two Cities, Two Loves, 145]

Modern men from all walks of life, even among those claiming Christ as Lord and Saviour, have given themselves to compromise and are arming wokeness where-in they are participating in their own destruction even while their country is living on borrowed time. The great Edmund Burke gave one of the great warnings to us:

Men are qualified for civil liberty in exact proportion to their disposition to put moral chains upon their own appetites ... in proportion as their love of justice is above their rapacity ... in proportion as their soundness and sobriety of understanding is above their vanity and presumption ... in proportion as they are more disposed to listen to the counsels of the wise and good, in preference to the flattery of knaves. Society cannot exist unless a controlling power upon will and appetite be placed somewhere; and the less of it there is within, the more there must be without. It is ordained in the eternal constitution of things, that men of intemperate minds cannot be free. Their passions forge their fetters. [Leonard Ravenhill, America Is Too Young to Die, 31]

Will this country and her people continue the downward spiral to oblivion? Will we be known for our weakness instead of our willingness to obey our God?

Sadly, Baptists and other Christian groups that were the forerunners of Religious Liberty are a part of the problem. They have added fuel to the fire as they have been asleep at the wheel while this was happening. Religious Liberty must be guarded. Where are those who are organizing opposition to this Trojan horse? There are none; they are too busy apologizing and confessing the supposed sins of their ancestors whom the Lord chose to bless and use mightily in bringing glory to Himself. The WE NOW HAVE VIDEO MESSAGES ON YOUTUBE AND SERMON AUDIO. THE SERMON very people of the past that saw AUDIO MESSAGES CAN BE DOWNLOADED AS AN MP3 FILE. Why are they dishonoring the integrity of them and for what reason? They are risking all for a social experiment to supposedly make another group feel more loved by them. They have allowed social engineers to dictate to their consciences and have ceased to bow at the altar of God's Word and the Holy Spirit. True they have done it in the name of the Lord, but this is the operating method of cults who do the same. Yes, they have trashed the fifth commandment and a fomentor of a greater national calamity. In conclusion, please read the words of Paul who wrote by the Holy Spirit's enablement:

For God has allowed us to know the secret of his plan, and it is this: he purposes in his sovereign will that all human history shall be consummated in Christ, that everything that exists in Heaven or earth shall find its perfection and fulfilment in him. And here is the staggering thing—that in all which will one day belong to him we have been promised a share since we were long ago destined for this by the one who achieves his purposes by his sovereign will, so that we, as the first to put our confidence in Christ, may bring praise to his glory!
